Leaders Confer on Topics for Summit

Macmillan, De Gaulle Eye World Issues at Final Formal Session

London — French President Charles de Gaulle and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan met early today and ranged over various world issues expected to arise at next month's big four summit conference.

It was their second and last formal business session scheduled for de Gaulle's 3-day state visit to Britain.

The two leaders conferred in de Gaulle's Buckingham palace suite. The presence of their foreign ministers—Maurice Couve de Murville of France and Britain's Selwyn Lloyd—indicated some detailed diplomatic work was conducted.

French and British officials said de Gaulle and Macmillan arranged to exchange notes on their recent high-level pre-summit meetings.

Only last weekend, de Gaulle met with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in Paris and conducted a point-by-point survey of the causes of east-west tension. They considered in particular the future role of Germany in Europe, the Berlin powderkeg, the middle east and African situations, including Algeria, and east-west relations in the far east.

Macmillan returned last week from a swift round of talks with President Eisenhower and other U.S. officials. The prime minister argued his case for a very flexible western negotiating approach at the summit, especially toward the Soviet threat to West Berlin.

American sympathy He also attempted to enlist American sympathy and support for Britain's campaign of resistance against the French-led European common market, with its plans for cutting tariffs between the group's six members and unifying them against imports from outside.

British Papers Give State Vote Big Play

London — Sen. John F. Kennedy became a page one headline in British newspapers today with his victory in the Wisconsin primary.

The voting news was a top story in London afternoon papers. The British press previously had paid scant attention to the maneuvering for the U.S. presidential nomination.

Pictures of the Massachusetts Democrat were carried prominently alongside smaller photos of defeated Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey.

Clear-Cut Win Puts Power Into Kennedy's Campaign

Heavy Democratic Vote Rocks Tradition

Declares Ike Betrayed U. S. Elder Citizens

Labor Leader Sees 'Surrender' Over Old Age Program

Washington — Union Leader James B. Carey accused the Eisenhower administration today of "shameful surrender to the American Medical Association and to the insurance companies" on government-sponsored old age health insurance.

He called this "an outright betrayal of the needs of America's 16 million elder citizens."

Carey is president of the International Union of Electrical Workers and secretary-treasurer of the AFL-CIO's industrial union department. His testimony was prepared for a senate subcommittee on problems of the aged, which arranged also to question Sen. of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming about the administration's position on old age health insurance.

No Formal Program Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dickson of Illinois said in advance that Flemming would not be ready to spell out any formal administration program in this field.

The administration is studying possible plans for federal-state subsidies for voluntary health insurance through private companies for retired persons unable to meet the full cost of private coverage.

Sen. John F. Kennedy today won a decisive victory in the Wisconsin primary election, defeating Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey by a margin of 105,000 votes.

Madison — The Wisconsin taxpayers have won a 3-day reprieve for filing their 1959 personal income tax forms.

State Tax Commissioner John A. Gronouski announced Tuesday that the regular April 15 deadline arrives on Good Friday, a legal holiday in Wisconsin.

Gronouski said tax offices will be closed before noon on that day and that he was extending the deadline until April 18.

Active Kennedy Campaign, Religion Seen as Factors In Fox Cities Area Precincts

BY DAVID SCHAEFER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Where in Outagamie county did all those Democrats come from? And, for that matter, where did they come from in Calumet, Waupaca and Winnebago counties?

In the last 30 years, party votes for president have averaged 67 per cent Republican in Waupaca county, 57 per cent GOP in Winnebago and Outagamie counties, and 55 per cent Republican in Calumet county.

What happened Tuesday? In the presidential primary race, the two Democratic candidates drew 69.5 per cent of the vote in Calumet county, 63.6 per cent in Outagamie county, 58.6 per cent in Winnebago county and 52.3 per cent in Waupaca county.

Democrats certainly must be happy with the turnout for their candidates, but only the politically naive would interpret the results as a complete about-face by the voters in the four counties.

Several factors are involved and make analysis of the vote difficult. Some of them are:

1. There was a spirited race on the Democratic ticket — none on the GOP side, where Vice President Nixon was unopposed.

2. Sen. Kennedy campaigned extensively in the entire area. Sen. Humphrey worked hard in Winnebago county and to a lesser extent in Waupaca county, but ignored Outagamie and Calumet counties.

3. Mrs. Jerome Fox, Chilton, widow of the long-time popular Democratic leader in Calumet county and the state, was head of the Kennedy campaign forces in Calumet.

4. A reminder of the southern power to filibuster was given by Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) after he moved yesterday afternoon to strike out the section of the bill providing for federal voting referees.

The 69-year-old senator spoke for seven hours and 40 minutes, except for a 10-minute interruption for a quorum call, before he yielded the floor at midnight and the senate recessed until 10 a.m. today.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, in shirt sleeves and suspenders, had this expression in Milwaukee Tuesday night as he received reports of his progress in the Wisconsin presidential primary. With him is Vic Williams, personal secretary to the Minnesota Democrat.

Victory Margin In Wisconsin Is Questioned

Nixon's Support Surprises Some of Closest Backers

BY JACK BELL

Washington — Sen. John F. Kennedy took a measured but not decisive step toward the Democratic presidential nomination by winning yesterday's Wisconsin Democratic primary.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon favorably surprised some of his closest supporters by his ability to draw a party vote in an unexciting, unopposed Republican primary in which he refused to campaign.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) kept himself politically alive in the Democratic contest. He pointed his future campaign toward a bone-crushing showdown in the May 10 West Virginia primary. The political ingredients that go into the crucible there may be far different from those in Wisconsin.

Party support For Kennedy's capture of 20 of Wisconsin's convention votes furnished satisfactory evidence he could count on 300 votes.

Harrison Runs Out of Ballots In Big Vote Rush

Sherwood — A rash of last-minute voters Tuesday exhausted the supply of ballots in the town of Harrison. After all sample ballots were used, election officials had to beg ballots from neighboring town of Woodville.

The unexpected rush was caused by a turn-out of 650 voters. There was no local election in the township, but the overwhelming vote of 430 ballots for Sen. Kennedy explained the attraction at the polls.

This predominantly Catholic community cast 59 votes for Sen. Humphrey and 154 votes for Vice Pres. Nixon.

The ballots ran out about a half-hour before the polls were scheduled to close at 6:30 p.m.

Urges Loans for Latin America

Washington — Colombian President Alberto Lleras Camargo told congress today the Latin American nations urgently need ample development loans.

"Give them this help," he said, "before their backwardness becomes a retreat, a rout, an historical disaster."

Eastern Senator Holding 105,000-Vote Margin Over Minnesota Sen. Humphrey

Milwaukee — Victory over a formidable opponent in the Wisconsin primary election put new punch and power today behind Sen. John F. Kennedy's bid for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The result was clear-cut, but not as big as his aides had hoped.

Kennedy said, however, "I would think the Democratic leaders would find it very helpful."

For the election demonstrated, he claimed, that he can attract votes among the farmers, labor unions, and non-Catholics.

Kennedy, a Massachusetts Catholic, defeated Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, a Protestant. For years, Humphrey has championed the midwest farmers. And in yesterday's election, he was supported by top leadership of the Wisconsin AFL-CIO.

Vice President Nixon, unopposed in the Republican primary, did not come into the hard-fought campaign. He ran third.

The Tabulation With 3,428 of 3,446 precincts reported, unofficial tabulations showed: Kennedy, 474,023; Humphrey, 369,442; Nixon, 342,851.

This gave Kennedy slightly more than 58 per cent of the Democratic vote and victories in six of the 10 congressional districts.

It also allocated 20 Wisconsin delegate votes in the Democratic national convention to Kennedy and 10 to Humphrey. Each also will receive a half vote from the ballot shared by the state's two national committee members, who split their support. That will make the totals 20 and 10 respectively.

Even before the final count was in, the vote broke the previous record, set in 1952, of 1,018,149.

Coming on the heels of his spectacular sweep in New Hampshire last month, this was Kennedy's second

He added, "I never took the view that we could win all 10 districts despite the pollsters. If we end up with 57 per cent of the Democratic vote we will be doing very well."

Humphrey said the election caused him no pain.

"I suppose numerically I'm the defeated candidate," he said, "but I'm defeated I certainly don't hurt. In light of the predictions made, we have every reason to believe we did well."

The vote for Nixon also was open to interpretation. He Sacramento, Calif. — California, with well over seven million vehicles, is going to require anti-smog devices on cars throughout the state.

The legislature made that certain in taking the biggest single step yet against the eye-smarting pall of air pollution.

The heavily-rural senate, faced with a reapportionment drive in smog-irritated southern California, passed the bill 34-3. A few hours later the big city assembly concurred in senate amendments, 57-10.

The bill now goes to Gov. Edmund Brown for his signature. He vigorously supported it.

South Africa Vows To Crush Boycott

Johannesburg, South Africa — Government officials served notice today they will press their police drive against Negro "inciters and intimidators" until South Africa's work boycott is crushed.

Rivers Relentlessly Pound Soggy Levees

Mississippi, Missouri Threaten New Floods in Two States; Streams Swell Along East Coast

Chicago —(U)—The turbulent Mississippi and Missouri rivers continued their relentless pounding against soggy and weakened levees in the midwest flood belt today, threatening new overflows.

Swollen rivers and streams caused trouble along new fronts, in New England and New York state but the situation did not appear serious. However, the most severe flood in 20 years was forecast along the Connecticut river in New England.

The major flood fighting was along the Mississippi and Missouri in Illinois and Missouri.

Critical Area

The most immediate critical area appeared to be along the 50-mile stretch of the Mississippi from Niotia, Ill., across from Fort Madison, Iowa, to Quincy, Ill. But there was no letup in the patrol along the big river farther south to Cairo, Ill.

Flood danger increased as water spilled over levees at several places and battered hard against weakened dikes at many others along the two rivers.

College and high school students joined farmers and civil defense workers in the fight to hold the levees in Niotia. They piled thousands of sandbags atop the levee south of the small community.

Threatens Break

Across the river in Missouri, the Mississippi threatened to break through the levee at Gregory landing and calls were issued for more volunteers to shore up the weakening wall.

Thousands of acres of rich farm land have been flooded and hundreds of families evacuated from their homes in Illinois and Missouri in the last week.

Water spilled over a levee at Clarksville, Mo., Tuesday, inundating 5,000 acres of farm land. A small breach in a levee east of Palmyra, Mo., flooded 800 acres of land.

The Missouri was expected to crest at 22.5 feet at St. Joseph, Mo., tomorrow, 5.5 above flood stage. No flooding was reported in St. Joseph but water covered farm land across the river in Kansas. Heavy flooding of farm land also was reported in the Booneville, Mo., area.

AMC Sets Record for March Auto Sales

Detroit —(U)—American Motors corporation announced Tuesday that it sold more cars in the month just ended than in any previous March. AMC listed sales of Rambler automobiles at 100,466 for the quarter and 37,205 for the month of March. These figures were quarter and March records.

Kennedy Scores Clear-Cut Win In Wisconsin

had no opposition to stir GOP interest and he did not campaign in Wisconsin.

Four years ago, 438,000 Republicans cast ballots for President Eisenhower in a virtually uncontested election. And in 1952, the late Sen. Robert A. Taft rolled up 315,000 GOP votes to 262,000 cast for Earl Warren, then governor of California.

Minimized Religion Kennedy minimized the part played by his religion—he is a Roman Catholic—on his victory.

"We carried Janesville, for instance, which is only 12 per cent Catholic. I also believe the people had pretty much made up their minds before the religious issue came up."

The size of the "cross over" ballot, in which Wisconsin Republicans may vote in the Democratic primary, and vice versa, will never be known.

Kennedy's aides cited several areas as proof of his vote-pulling power among non-Catholics.

In Sheboygan where Catholic voters constitute 22 per cent of the total, he had 55.5 per cent of the vote. He took 44.3 per cent in Madison which has 22 per cent Catholics, and 48.3 per cent of the vote in LaCrosse where the Catholic vote is 23 per cent.

As for his draw with the farmers, Kennedy pointed to his victory in the 7th district, an agricultural area.

Industrial Areas

He was a big winner in three of Wisconsin's major industrial areas, Milwaukee, Racine and Kenosha. The AFL-CIO leadership in the state opposed him and urged union men to support Humphrey.

Both Humphrey and Kennedy took the occasion to comment happily on the vote for Nixon.

"Nixon did come in a wobbly third, just as I predicted," Humphrey said. "This certainly shows it doesn't pay to play tricks with politics."

"I didn't think Nixon would do as badly as he did here," Kennedy said.

But in Washington, GOP national Chairman Thruston Morton saluted the vote for Nixon. He said it was the greatest ever given an unopposed candidate in the Wisconsin primary.

"Vice President Nixon again has demonstrated his tremendous grassroots appeal," he said. "The vice president has amassed a tremendous vote in the Wisconsin primary."

Test of Strength While Kennedy's victory in Wisconsin did not achieve the dimensions of his triumph in New Hampshire, yesterday's election was more significant than the one last month in two respects—

1. It was his first test of strength against another Democratic presidential aspirant—and a vigorous, hard-driving, persuasive opponent, too. He had only token opposition in New Hampshire.

2. The religious issue did not enter the picture in New Hampshire. Nor did his Harvard accent and eastern manner seem strange there as they did to many voters in Wisconsin.

Kennedy and Humphrey both waged intensive campaigns. Not even the homeric contest of 1952 between Taft and Warren equalled the one fought this year.

Both candidates criss-crossed the state, appeared many times in the same place, and brought in outside help. Kennedy's relatives and in-laws popped up in scores of places while he was campaigning elsewhere.

Appear Tired "It has been an exceptionally hard-fought campaign," Kennedy said. "I am delighted because, two months ago, umet county, Kennedy led in 14 of the 16 precincts.

After Commenting on the Way the Wisconsin race was going, the two Democratic candidates in the presidential primary, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, left, and Sen. John F. Kennedy, right, greeted each other in Milwaukee Tuesday night. Between them is Gov. Orville Freeman of Minnesota.

4. Democrats have been showing increased strength in this part of Wisconsin in recent elections and party organizations have been increasingly active.

5. Catholic Kennedy opposing Protestant Humphrey created an almost embarrassing religious pattern in the voting. Some people who normally vote Republican obviously crossed over to express their religious loyalties—one way or the other.

Normally Republican Protestant Waupaca county gave Humphrey a sizable vote. Normally Democratic Catholic "down river" communities such as Little Chute, Kimberly and Combined Locks went overwhelmingly for Kennedy.

Decline of Stronghold? 6. Vice President Nixon held the Republican vote better than many expected, particularly in the urban areas.

An analysis of the vote in Outagamie county, traditionally a Republican stronghold, is indicative of what happened in the 4-county area.

The two Democratic candidates drew 17,801 votes. Nixon got 10,264.

The vote for Nixon, running in an unchallenged Republican primary, seems quite reasonable when compared to President Eisenhower's 10,116 votes in the 1956 primary.

The County Score But in 1956 the Democratic candidate, Estes Kefauver, my own brother advised me not to come into Wisconsin."

On election eve, both men appeared bone-tired, hoarse and of voice, with dark circles under their eyes and shortened tempers.

But last night, when the trend had definitely developed, both were ebullient and bouncy. "I'm sorry it's over," Humphrey said. "I feel kind of exhilarated."

They held post-midnight news conferences, appeared on several television programs and came to news rooms to talk personally with reporters who covered their campaigns.

Both said they would head for West Virginia within the next few days, where they will battle it out in another primary.

Kennedy points out that Catholics constitute three per cent of the vote in West Virginia. He said he hopes to demonstrate even more convincingly that his religion would be no handicap if he becomes the Democratic candidate for president.

draw only 4,281 votes from Outagamie county.

This blossoming of Democrats can hardly be attributed to 1956 stay-at-homes who this year tramped to the polls.

It was apparent that many Republicans of Outagamie county crossed over; Catholics apparently to vote for Kennedy and Protestants apparently to cast ballots for Humphrey. However, the crossover vote in urban areas such as Appleton was not as heavy as expected.

Look at the votes by candidates. Sen. John Kennedy drew 13,310. Nixon had 10,264 and Sen. Humphrey 4,481.

Out of 56 precincts in the county, Kennedy carried 28. Nixon had 26 and Humphrey mand party support in the crucial midwest as well as in his home New England stamping ground.

But it was not the sweep that Kennedy would have liked. Humphrey ran behind, but respectably so. And, in general, Humphrey proved that he is the champion of the kind of farmers who inhabit the western areas of Wisconsin which adjoin his home state of Minnesota.

Kennedy got the industrial first Wisconsin district, a tribute to his apparently superior pull with organized labor. He took the eastern side of Wisconsin where the Roman Catholic vote is strong. He ran well in normally Republican areas.

This division of the spoils did Kennedy no good in his attempts to mute the issue raised by his Catholicism. Instead, it emphasized that he was strongest where the Catholics are most numerous.

Crossed Over

It generated the suspicion that Republicans ignored their own primary and crossed over to vote for him as the man they regarded as the easiest Democrat to beat in November. Likewise, it was apparent Protestants crossed over to vote for Humphrey.

It seemed implicit these issues would continue to plague Kennedy until he tests his strength in nearly solid Protestant territory such as West Virginia. In that state only Democrats will vote their preference between Kennedy and Humphrey, since Republicans there cannot obtain Democratic ballots as they did in Wisconsin.

In their final sumup on a national television program, Humphrey appeared more exuberant in defeat than Kennedy did in victory.

Describing the Wisconsin battle as "a sort of warm-up," Humphrey said he feels "I'll be much alive, politically," in West Virginia voting. That state's preferential primary is not binding on its 25-vote delegation.

carried only two—the towns of Black Creek and Liberty.

Substantial Margins Kennedy was second in 22 precincts and third in six, while Nixon was second in 27 and third in four. Humphrey was second in eight and trailed in 47.

In 16 precincts, votes for Kennedy topped those of the other two candidates combined. They were the towns of Kaukauna, Vandenbrook, Buchanan, Freedom and Oneda, the villages of Bear Creek, Kimberly, Little Chute, Combined Locks, Ward 8 and Precinct 1 of Appleton's Ninth ward, and all the five Kaukauna wards.

Little Chute had a 23 to 1 ratio, with 1,170 Kennedy votes and 48 for Humphrey. Nixon got 155.

Nixon received more votes than the total for both Democrats in Dale, both Seymour wards, the villages of Black Creek, Hortonville and Appleton's First and Second wards.

Campaigning Tells

The religious angle of the vote is evident in a comparison of the balloting with the proportion of Catholic population in the four counties. Humphrey fared best in Waupaca county, where Protestants are the most numerous. Kennedy ran best in Calumet county, where Catholics are the most numerous. The pattern also held in Outagamie and Winnebago counties.

It would be unfair to both candidates and the voters—to say nothing of being inaccurate—to claim the religious issue was the only one.

Kennedy fared best where he campaigned and Humphrey didn't. Humphrey did better in the farm areas, as expected, than he did in the urban sections. Kennedy probably would have run well "down river" even if he had not been Catholic. Cross-overs from the Republican ticket would have occurred anyway, because there was no GOP contest.

And who can tell why a voter casts his ballot the way he does in the secrecy of the voting booth?

Cause of Diseased Organs Found To Be Nerve Interference

Dr. Henry Winsor, whose findings appeared in the "Medical Times" verifies the Chiropractic principle. The material came from the Laboratory of Operative Surgery on the cadaver in the University of Pennsylvania. In his research he establishes without question the fact that spinal distortion is associated with diseased organs.

The Science of Chiropractic deals entirely with this fact. Nerves pass from the brain through and out from the spinal column to all the organs and parts of the body. Slight misalignments of the spine cause interference with the transmission of life giving and controlling energy from the brain. Interference with transmission of nervous energy acts very much like interference with a telegraph message. When an organ of the body receives the wrong message from the brain disease is the result and will effect the whole body.

A 1955 legislative interim study showed state government would have to extend a financial hand if all of Wisconsin's Great Lakes ports were to cash in on the promise of a new, deep-draft St. Lawrence seaway.

When the proposal was put to a test of the voters Tuesday, it found unexpected support in some inland areas that could hope for no direct benefits from the constitutional revision.

Milwaukee county, on the other hand, registered a sizeable "no" vote on the proposal. The city of Milwaukee already has poured millions of dollars into building its own port facility.

Animals Enter Traffic Scene

San Francisco —(U)—It was animal day Tuesday in San Francisco area traffic.

There was a kick-and-run horse and a sea lion that went for a walk.

While two horse companions watched, the kick-and-run horse reared up and flailed the windshield of Lloyd Halbrook's automobile at a rural Moss Beach intersection south of San Francisco. After the brief encounter, Halbrook reported, "all three horses lowered their heads into the wind and galloped off into the fog."

The sea lion, named Svena Erik, was picked up by Berkeley police while heading in low gear in the direction of San Francisco bay, a mile from her poolside home at the Kappa Alpha house near the University of California campus.

clivity and this apparently cool state voters on the prospect of state spending to create possible competitors for its seaway trade.

Judge Will Decide on Dismissal of Charges

One Count Against Rep. Powell
For Tax Evasion Already Dropped

New York — A federal judge says he will decide by tomorrow whether to dismiss the remaining income tax evasion charges against Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, Jr. (D-N.Y.).

Judge Frederick van Pelt Tuesday dismissed one of three counts against the Negro congressman from Harlem.

The count was dropped after the government conceded it had failed to prove Powell filed a fraudulent joint return for himself and his wife, Jazz pianist Hazel Scott, for 1952.

The remaining two counts charge fraud in Powell's preparation of Miss Scott's 1951 return. Miss Scott is not a defendant in the case.

Will Review Law
Bryan said he would spend today reviewing the law and reviewing arguments for and against dismissal of the charges. The jury of nine women and three men has been excused until tomorrow.

The judge interrupted Chief Asst. U. S. Atty. Morton S. Robson shortly after he began his rebuttal to the defense argument for dismissal. Defense Counsel Edward Bennett Williams made the motion Monday when the prosecution rested its case.

Bryan inquired of Robson if he was ready "to deal with 1952."

"The government concedes that as to 1952 there is a failure of proof," Robson said.

He said the prosecution had not expected one of its witnesses to testify that $2,200 of income allegedly unreported by Powell for 1952 actually was

Pittsburg Mayor Finds Giving Back Money Difficult

Pittsburgh — Mayor Joseph Barr of Pittsburgh is having trouble giving money away.

Barr returned his state senator salary checks received after he became mayor in January. These and new ones came back for a total of $1,800.

Dep. Aud. Gen. Martin H. Brackbill informed Barr Tuesday that he could get rid of the checks in any manner except sending them back to Harrisburg, the state capital.

In a letter, Brackbill advised Barr to endorse the checks for deposit in the state treasury as a miscellaneous receipt.

Said Barr: "I never knew it was so difficult to give back money."

New Listening Device Tested

Unit Will Pick Up Faintest Signals From Rockets

Ft. Monmouth, N.J. — An electronic listening device so sensitive it will pick up the faintest radio signals from interplanetary rockets is under testing, the army said today.

The new super ear was described as, pound for pound, the most sensitive listening device in the history of science. It is expected to increase the range of communications and radar systems 10 times, said the signal research and development laboratory.

The device is called a MA-

SER (microwave amplification by stimulated emission of radiation). Its heart is a special 2-carat synthetic ruby cooled with liquid helium to 452 degrees below zero — about as cold as any object can become.

At that temperature the jewel is able to detect and amplify radio signals that are almost imperceptible.

The ruby MASER was built by the army and Hughes Aircraft company of Culver City, Calif. used as an amplifier for radio and radar, the 25-pound device may produce enough sensitivity to detect radio "beeps" from space vehicles millions of miles from earth, and enable long-range, high-angle radar to spot intercontinental ballistic missiles much sooner than at present. The new MASER and its receiver are housed in a cabinet no bigger than a home television console.

Turkish Judge Acquits Police Of Beating Men

Izmir Turkey — A Turkish judge today acquitted three Turkish policemen charged with beating two U. S. army sergeants after their arrest on suspicion of black market currency deals.

Judge Ihsan Elgin said there was no valid evidence to convict the policemen, who were charged with beating Sgts. James Ing, of Ruth, Miss., and Dale McQuiston of Van Nuys, Calif., after their arrest last August. The judge said the sergeants could appeal against the decision. During the trial attorneys for the two Americans said testimony from doctors and witnesses clearly indicated both had been "brutally treated."

King and McCuiston, along with two other U. S. Army sergeants — Joe Proietti of Mount Kisco, N. Y., and Jack Recevuto of Brooklyn, N. Y. — still face the currency charges. Their trial is currently bogged down, awaiting testimony of financial ex-

Indict Widow In Death of Five Children

Allentown, Pa. — A Lehigh county grand jury Tuesday indicted Mrs. Ruth L. de Urdanivia, 41-year-old widow of a Peruvian consular officer, on charges of murder and voluntary manslaughter in the death of her five children.

The five children, ranging in age from 4 to 12, were found dead last Oct. 19. Mrs. de Urdanivia is accused of giving them an overdose of sleeping pills mixed with orange juice in the guise of cough medicine, then attempting to take her own life. She was quoted by officials as saying she was in poverty and despair.

Mrs. de Urdanivia's husband, Jose, died in San Francisco in 1957 of a heart attack. He was en route to Japan to become Peruvian consul general in Yokohama. His widow, who grew up in Allentown, returned here to work after his death.

Woman Unwitting Dupe in Man's Suicide

Los Angeles — A man meets a woman at a downtown bar. After a few drinks they go to his apartment to listen to hi-fi. He hands her a .45 caliber automatic and laughingly says:

"Shoot me... it's got blanks in it."

A shot. He falls dead. Is the woman responsible for the death?

No, a coroner's jury ruled Tuesday in the Saturday killing of Donald R. Arthurs. It exonerated Mrs. Joan Crawford Moreno, an unwitting dupe to a suicide.

Negro Minister Wins Texas Council Seat

Slaton, Texas — A Negro Baptist minister was elected to the city council Tuesday, the first Negro to win that office in this south plains area of west Texas.

The Rev. L. L. Dixon defeated five white opponents. He got 207 votes in unofficial returns against 170 for his closest opponent.

Slaton, 14 miles southeast of Lubbock, has about 6,000 residents.

Only a Third Of Crossings Protected

By Many of Type
Where It's Not Needed, Report Says

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — Railroad crossing protection for railroad trains and highway users is increasing, but about two-thirds of all the crossings in Wisconsin remain without protection of any kind.

The disclosure came in a report to an inquiring legislative committee from the public service commission, which is charged by law to examine such crossings for their hazards and to require protection where the public interest is sufficient to warrant it.

There are estimated to be 9,129 rail-street or highway crossings in the state. The officials said that 6,642 of them are unprotected.

Protection ranges from the rapidly disappearing flagman, to a variety of mechanical devices such as gates and bells and flashing signals, and overhead structures and subways.

The enlarged state trunk highway construction and improvement program of recent years has stepped up the protective orders for the railroad crossings on the state highway system.

$226,000 in Work — This year the highway department expects installations worth $226,000 to be completed, as well as 19 grade separation structures.

The crossing protection orders of the public service commission are under a 1949 law which apportions the cost between the public, through the state highway department budget and the railroad company involved.

On the 11,500 mile state highway system there are now 343 structure crossings, and 663 crossings at grade, and 419 of the latter remain unprotected. But most of the latter are industrial track locations which infrequently require "higher-type" protection, the state authorities told the legislature.

Red Cross Drive Nets $736 at Black Creek

Black Creek — The Red Cross fund campaign under the direction of Mrs. Robert Tesch collected $736.90; $118.35 from the town of Black Creek where Mrs. Reinhold Wolff was in charge; $168 from the town of Center where Russell Laird was chairman; $228.50 from the town of Cicero where Mrs. Chris Roepke was in charge, and $222.05 from the village where Mrs. Oscar Gregorius was in charge.

Mrs. Tesch also directed the Easter Seal sale that gained $66.21. She was assisted by Mrs. Alfred Piehl and members of the American Legion junior auxiliary, Barbara Daelke, Judy Dryden, Sharon and Betty Kettner, Carol LeCapitaine and Betty Ann Tesch.

Madison—U—A new trial was ordered by the Wisconsin supreme court today in a suit for damages brought on behalf of a Kenosha boy bitten by a dog while standing on a neighbor's porch. A circuit court jury, in a special verdict, found 11-year-old Bobby Nelson guilty.

The high court's opinion, written by Justice E. Harold Hallows, reversed a ruling by Judge M. Eugene Baker in circuit court for Kenosha county. Since a new trial was ordered, the court said, it decided not to comment on adequacy of the $2,000 damage award.

Fire Destroys Home; Father Saves Family

Prowler Believed to Have Set Gasoline Bomb Where 7 Lived

Lancaster, Calif. — Moments after a prowler was spotted in the back yard, a bomb set fire to a house in which five children and two adults were asleep today.

Lloyd Wilkinson, 28, an auto parts firm employee, suffered serious burns helping to save his wife, three daughters and two neighbor children who were spending the night with the Wilkinsons.

Flames swept the house, causing damage estimated at $15,000.

Mrs. Claire Wilkinson, 30, and their daughter, Laura, 2, were treated for minor injuries.

Saw Prowler
Cecil T. Joy, 33, a neighbor, said that shortly after midnight he saw a prowler and went to another neighbor's house to call the sheriff's office. While there, he saw the explosion which is believed to have been a gasoline bomb. He told deputies the prowler jumped into a small car and fled.

Wilkinson was burned over 40 per cent of his body, hospital attendants said.

Neither of the Wilkinsons could think of any motive, deputies said.

Curtis Hempstead, 17, studying in his house across the street, said the explosion sounded like "a loud thud, like lumber falling."

When he arrived, Wilkinson was trying to get out a window with Laura.

"He was stumbling and banging his head against the window casing, until I reached up and got hold of his hair to guide him to the opening," the youth said.

Arson investigators were called in.

Comeback Try by Impeached Judge Fails in Primary

Chattanooga, Tenn. — A bid for political comeback by Raulston Schoolfield, impeached criminal court judge, fell short in a strongly contested primary race for Democratic nomination to Hamilton county's highest office.

Dave M. Eldridge, Jr., 45, a member of the county council running with both city and county administration support, Tuesday rode a surge of metropolitan votes to victory in the county judge's race.

Tabulation of the 70 precincts gave Eldridge 19,610 votes to 15,647 for Schoolfield and 6,987 for County Councilman Philip M. Osborne.

The office of county judge has wide fiscal powers and pays $15,000 a year.

Schoolfield was removed as a criminal court judge by the Tennessee legislature in 1958 in the wake of criticism by the U.S. senate rackets committee for his handling of cases involving Teamster union members.

Officials Call on People to Fulfill Schedule 2 or 3 Years Ahead of Time

Tokyo — Communist China's rulers called on their people today to fulfill two to three years ahead of schedule a 12-year farm crop program originally set for completion in 1967.

Vice Premier Tan Chen-lin, in a report to the national people's congress — red China's parliament — claimed development of the people's communes had already helped mainland China make huge gains in farm crops, especially in grains and raw cotton.

He urged "step - by - step transformation from improving farm tools to semi-mechanization and mechanization." He claimed 24 per cent of the three main grain-growing areas of red China had in 1959 surpassed their 1967 goals. He said total national grain output last year was 270,050,000 tons, three-quarters of the final goal of 360-375 million tons. Tan said this would give a minimum of 500 kilograms (1102 pounds) of grain a year per head of population. But he called for efforts to reach the still higher aim of 750 kilograms per head.

Nation Will Study Vote in Wisconsin

Race; Religious Vote Significant

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison — The ever volatile Wisconsin electorate turned in another surprise verdict Tuesday.

In giving Sen. Humphrey an unexpectedly strong support in defiance of the forecasts of virtually all of the pollsters and most of the professional politicians of the state, the people of Wisconsin probably made of the enormously publicized and world spotlighted primary a stand-off in practical presidential nomination terms.

Meanwhile the voting showed that Sen. Kennedy might have possessed a secret all the time that was not suspected by the professionals who had watched the contest.

He had consistently downgraded his reputation as the favorite, repeating wherever a reporter would listen that he would be satisfied with a majority of the Wisconsin delegation and did not look for a landslide.

Clues in Ballots
The voting record will be intensely studied for clues to the distribution of votes according to religious affiliation and for signs of a probable cross-over of Republicans in the the open primary about which commentators from other parts of the country marveled during the last fortnight and which some of them confessed they didn't understand.

A cursory conclusion is that Kennedy ran well in the eastern half of the state which has the largest concentrations of Catholics in its population, and that Humphrey did best in the Protestant districts.

But only a careful analysis of the precinct returns will tell the professional politicians what conflicting currents were involved, such as the preference showed Humphrey in the marginal agricultural areas and those abutting Minnesota with its vigorous Democratic machine which went all out for its leader in the Wisconsin vote drive.

Democrats Divided
The division of the delegation leaves a threat of continued division in the Wisconsin Democratic organization. The state Democratic committee thus far has been in control of the Humphrey organization, although by a moderate margin.

There have been some angry explosions in the committee already and there may be more. Provocative situations may be presented when the Wisconsin convention delegation assembles to name its chairman, and when the state Democratic committee names alternates to the national nominating convention who will flank the elected delegates pledged to Humphrey and Kennedy.

If the Kennedy forces can control, Mayor Ivan Nesting of Madison, a delegate for the state at large, is likely to be chosen delegation chairman to the Los Angeles convention.

He has bossed the Kennedy primary election committee. Nesting suffered a setback, however, when his candidate failed to make the expected showing in the Madison district, where Humphrey ran well in part because many Stevenson fans regard the Minnesotan as a kind of stalking horse of the 1952 and 1956 nominees.

Didn't Get Support
Some Wisconsin politicians were speculating today—with the benefit of hindsight—that Humphrey might have upset Kennedy in the Wisconsin test had he had the resources to which he probably was entitled on the basis of past associations and services.

Many Wisconsin political leaders were immobilized in the campaign although they owed much to Humphrey—probably because they hesitated to oppose Kennedy who was so generally regarded as a sure fire victor.

Among them were Sen. Proxmire and Gov. Nelson, both of whom were getting campaign favors from Minnesota over the years when Kennedy was an utter stranger to them. Many of their key associates and Democratic party machine captains followed the lead of the men holding the high offices.

The results of the state wide voting indicate that if both party chiefs had plumped for Humphrey, he might have carried the day against the Kennedy invasion.

Propaganda Effects
The trailing of Nixon in the balloting was feared by the Republicans, who had put on a belated campaign for the vice president largely because of its probable publicity effects in the rest of the country.

Already commentators are giving nationwide circulation to what they regard as the proof Tuesday that the Wisconsin voters showed that either of the Democratic candidates could whip Nixon here in the fall.

Republicans can console themselves with the thought that many Republicans stayed home—which doubtless they did in an election when the Republican candidate was unopposed, and that many of them couldn't resist the temptation to cross over into the Democratic column where the contest was.

They can also recall that in many previous spring primaries the Democrats suffered the psychological disadvantage of trailing in the total vote, without perceptible effect on the fall balloting.

But they knew that such explanations won't be heard, for the moment. In the eyes of the country Vice President Nixon took a shellacking from this usually Republican state Tuesday.

Move to Attach School Defeated At Poy Sippi

Poy Sippi — The referendum aimed at attaching school district No. 3 of the towns of Poy Sippi, Leon and Bloomfield to the Wild Rose High school district was defeated here by a 99 to 62 vote.

The township turned out a Republican vote in the presidential preference primary giving Richard Nixon 148 votes. The Democratic primary attracted 123 votes with 80 going to Sen. Humphrey and 43 to Sen. Kennedy.

The state constitutional amendment for state appropriations to help develop port facilities was given 121 to 74 support here.

Kennedy Wins By 1,700 Votes Over Humphrey

Kaukauna Voters Favor Nixon Over Minnesota Senator

Kaukauna — Sen. John Kennedy's visit to Kaukauna paid dividends in the primary election Tuesday as he swamped his opponent, Sen. Hubert Humphrey, 2,235 to 500 for the Democratic nomination for president, while Vice Pres. Richard M. Nixon, Republican nominee, tallied 853 votes.

Kennedy had a big advantage in all five city wards while Humphrey ran a distant third in all but the fifth ward, a Democratic stronghold. Kennedy tallied 567 votes in the First ward, 514 in the Second, 629 in the Third, 400 in the Fourth and 125 in the Fifth. His opponent tallied 93 in the First, 106 in the Second, 139 in the Third, 128 in the Fourth and 34 in the Fifth.

Vice Pres. Nixon tallied 201 votes in the First ward, 245 in the Second, 221 in the third, 155 in the Fourth and 31 in the Fifth.

Referendum
The referendum on whether state funds should be expanded to promote seaports was missed by many voters or of little interest as only 1,582 votes on the issue were cast despite 3,769 persons going to the polls. The vote against appropriating state funds was 885 compared to 697 for the plan.

First ward voters cast 169 votes for and 189 against while the Second ward had 146 favor the plan and 235 opposed. The Third ward vote was 189 yes and 244 no while in the Fourth ward the proposal was favored by 147 and opposed by 147. Fifth ward showed 46 yes and 70 no.

A total of 4,769 voters registered for the election and 3,769 or 79 per cent went to the polls, one of the highest turnouts in Kaukauna in many years. The Fourth ward led with 84 per cent of the registered voters going to the polls. The Second ward showed 81 per cent. The Third ward had 78 per cent. The First ward had 77 per cent and the Fifth ward showed 68 per cent.

Bridge Fund Set By Kaukauna Town Residents

Kaukauna — Approximately 40 residents of the town of Kaukauna approved setting up $2,000 in a bridge fund and authorized the town board to use funds for bridge work as necessary at the annual meeting Tuesday afternoon.

Voters also let the snow plowing and graveling of township roads to the discretion of the board. The rental agreement between the town of Oneida and town of Kaukauna for use of the Oneida dump was approved. Cost of dump privilege is $40 per year.

A discussion was held on entering into an agreement with the villages of Freedom and Wrightstown to furnish the township with fire protection. Such an agreement is now in effect but voters considered the possibility of a contract agreement.

Charlie's Potpourri of Facts Covers Wide Range of Subjects

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

POTPOURRI — At last it happened. A fellow in Appleton was given a blank check by accident as payment for his week's work. His observation: "I knew that sooner or later the amount of deductions would catch up with the take-home pay."

Sudden remembrance: I recall that when Douglas MacArthur returned to the United States he intimated that he would ultimately retire and settle down in Milwaukee. But he didn't. He lives in New York at the Waldorf. . . . His old family home in Milwaukee (it was at 1104 N. Marshall street) was once known as the "House of Many Faces." When it was built 94 years ago, a number of unusual faces were placed at intervals on its cornices. Tourists became pests, however, and ganged around the big house. At last all the faces except one were removed. . . . The old house is gone, now, however, and when I was last in Milwaukee the site was being used as a parking lot. . . .

I don't think you really care too much about this, but you might like to know that nine U. S. presidents were, Episcopalians, six were Presbyterian, four were Methodist, five were Unitarian, two belonged to the Reformed Dutch church, two were Baptist and three did not hold membership in any denominational church. . . .

Are there any ginkgo trees in this area? Its one of the rarest trees to grow as far north as Wisconsin, but it lives long and is sturdy after it gets a start. It has been said, probably incorrectly, that no man has ever seen a dead or dying ginkgo tree because it lives many, many years. . . . One in Sendai, Japan, is said to be 1,200 years old and it stands about 100 feet tall — much higher than the ginkgos which grow in Wisconsin. . . . Perhaps the first ginkgo to be planted in the U.S. was established along the Schuylkill river in the 1700s. It had been imported from Japan to England and thence to the U.S. . . . Fossils of the Ginkgo date back to the time of the dinosaur when the world was young. People who know about such things believe that the ginkgo is the oldest tree yet extant.

In earlier times of England and the U.S., there was no such thing as a toothpick. Its name then was dentiscalp. A cigaret smoker was called a whiffler; a bustle was termed a dress improver, the lobby of a theater was a crush-room, and its exits were called vomitories. . . .

Friend of mine is the most worried man in Green Bay. He bought one of those silent dog whistles and he is the only one in the house who can hear it. . . .

Double exposure: The wrestler, Gypsy Joe, who is the standard villain of every bout he's in, always is announced as being "from parts unknown," but he isn't really. Back in 1938 he identified himself as "Italy's greatest wrestler," but he wasn't that, either. His name is Joe Dorsetti and he comes from Detroit. . . .

People who get headaches while worrying about people who get headaches say that Americans had an estimated half-billion headaches last year, and they used 18 tons of aspirin to cure 'em.

Now that income tax time is upon us, you might be interested in some engaging statistics. On the bases of observations made, from previous years, there are slightly more than two chances out of 100 that your return will need minor adjustments after you send it in. . . . There is one chance in 100 that you will be obliged to confer with an official from the internal revenue service. . . . There are two chances in 100 that your case will have to be settled in court. . . . and the best news of all is that the chances are 91 out of 10 that your return will be accepted as filed. . . .

Incidentally, if you're a reader of normal capacities, you are reading this column at the rate of 250 words per minute. That's average speed for American readers. Would you be interested to know that a busy statistician figured out that the average basketball team in an average basketball game runs total of 24 miles? Busiest cagers are the forwards who gallop about five and a half miles in each game. Guards run only three, and the average distance per player per game is a little less than five miles. . . .

There are more people in the United States who want to write books than there are who want to read them. . . . That fancy observation was made by the Gallup poll which showed that 21 per cent of the adults in the U.S. read

UW Faculty to Vote on Ending Chaperoning

21-Year-Olds Would Come Under Ruling If in an Apartment

Madison—The University of Wisconsin faculty will vote next month on a proposal to end the traditional requirement for chaperones for student parties—but only for those in apartments of students 21 years old or older.

The proposal came as a recommendation of the student life and interests committee in a rewording of social regulations discussed at a faculty committee of the whole meeting. The new regulations suggested would provide, among other things, that "only those single men and women students who are 21 years of age and over are permitted to live in apartments." At present there are 456 single men under 21 living in apartments, but almost half of these will be 21 before the new regulations could go into effect, Dean of Students LeRoy Luberg reported to the faculty.

General Change
The general regulation changes, he explained, are aimed at throwing more responsibility on individual students.

"The self-regulation of social behavior is one of the kinds of learning to be acquired during a student's college years," the proposed regulations state. "The regulations established by the faculty and student body in addition to those established by the civil community serve as a guide to the social conduct expected of a member of the university community."

The proposed regulations provide that the individual member of this university community is responsible to the university for the conduct at gatherings at which he

Regulations Warn
Even under the liberalized regulations, "students, graduate or undergraduate, are prohibited from bringing unchaperoned members of the opposite sex" into "student lodging houses, fraternities, sororities, dormitories, or other abodes in which students or non-students live," excepting only apartments.

However, the proposed regulations warn: "An added obligation must be assumed by those living in apartments. In all circumstances in which the apartment dweller has knowledge of people visiting his living quarters he must assume responsibility for their conduct."

Klein, Kind Sweep Menasha Top Posts

Du Charme Defeated by 3,295 to 1,844 Margin; Carries 1 Ward; Clerk Clough Loses by 906

Menasha—Third Ward Ald. John L. Klein Tuesday defeated R. G. DuCharme for mayor of Menasha by a vote of 3,295 to 1,844.

DuCharme and two aldermen who supported the sale of Racine street park to First National bank apparently were defeated because of their stands on the issue, which charged an otherwise quiet campaign.

City Clerk Ira H. Clough, in office since autumn 1953, was defeated by Harry H. Kind, 2,959 to 2,053.

Klein will become Menasha's second full time mayor when he takes office at the April 19 organizational meeting of the common council, which will elect a successor as Third ward alderman.

2 Terms for DuCharme
DuCharme served two terms in the mayor's office. He was elected in 1956 as a part-time mayor. The following year, the office was changed to a full-time post. He won re-election in 1958.

Harry H. Kind

DuCharme carried only Menasha's Third ward, and that by six votes. He received 430 votes, compared to Klein's 424 in the latter's home ward.

Clough failed to carry any wards in his contest with Kind, an auditor for the State Bureau of Audit. Clough, in his own Third ward, garnered 425 votes, compared to Kind's 426.

DuCharme's vote totals in other wards were 193 in First; 389 in Second; 223 in the first precinct of the Fourth; 373 in the second precinct; and 236 in the Fifth ward.

Klein swept the wards with these totals: 348 in First; 710 in Second; DuCharme's home ward; 488 in the Fourth ward's first precinct; 889 in the second precinct; and 436 in the Fifth.

In the clerk race, vote totals, with Kind and Clough listed respectively, were 321 and 205, First; 668 and 404, Second; 442 and 252, Fourth, first precinct; 738 and 474, Fourth, second precinct; and 364 and 293, Fifth.

The city's largest vote-getter was Assessor Tom Zeininger, who was unopposed. He received 4,203 of a possible 5,195 votes cast in Tuesday's election.

Neenah Voters Select Two New Aldermen

Parman, Houpt Elected; Rename Four Incumbents

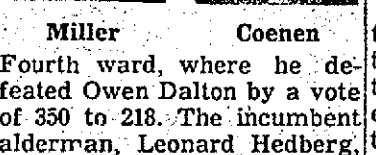

Neenah — Two new aldermen were named to the council Tuesday but for them it will be a return to seats they formerly occupied. Four other aldermen were reelected. Kenneth E. Parman was returned to the Seventh ward seat he held for a year up to last spring when he lost to Ralph Westland. Westland since then moved out of the city and Donald R. Gomoll was elected by the council last fall to serve until this election.

Parman received 273 votes to 265 for Gomoll, a difference of eight. He will serve a 1-year term.

Also returning to the council is Wilmot Houpt who has four years of council experience. He will represent the Fourth ward, where he defeated Owen Dalton by a vote of 350 to 218. The incumbent alderman, Leonard Hedberg, did not seek reelection.

Second ward voters returned Ewald S. Miller to a second term on the council, giving him 272 votes to 234 for Joseph Rine, a former alderman.

A 3-way race marked the Sixth ward election which was won by Ald. Carl B. Coenen, 307 votes to 262 for David O. Martin and 43 for David G.

Oshkosh Names 3 Council Members

Oshkosh — Voters Tuesday named three persons to the city council and reelected the two school board members up for reelection.

Named councilmen by the city at large were Roy Biebel, 31, a meat market operator, 8,408 votes; William P. Harford, 67, the incumbent, a funeral director, 7,399 votes; and Robert Macke, 68, retired, 6,908 votes.

Also seeking the post were Herbert Pitz, 6,508 votes, and Alex Ferguson, 6,464 votes.

In the school board's 3-man race, George F. Oaks, incumbent, polled 8,191 votes and Wesley Schneider, incumbent, 8,049 votes. The third candidate, Elmer Marsh, had 6,790 votes.

Unopposed for reelection was Ald. James H. Dinius of the Eighth ward who received 709 complimentary votes.

Fred W. Grupe was elected to his first term on the county board of supervisors and the other incumbents were reelected. Grupe will represent the Second ward. The others chosen were Hugh R. Moore of the First ward, Robert R. Skalmoski of the Fourth ward, Raymond Gischia of the Sixth ward and Oliver Thomsen of the Ninth ward.

Gischia had been appointed to the office a year ago and the others were reelected. All of the supervisors were unopposed.

Who Won Job of Municipal Judge Still Undecided

Oshkosh — The unsalaried unsought and little publicized office of municipal judge of Winnebago county which previously usually held court in Winnebago, had about 40 names written in on the ballot in Tuesday elections. The post has been empty since the death of Otto Ansonge about a year ago.

These names ranged from County Judge Herbert J. Mueller to one for Ben-Hur. As often in the case of a write-in vote, any one's name might be written in and the winner will not be known until the county vote canvass is made.

Strongest contender for the office is County Judge Mueller who received about 150 Menasha votes and 133 in Neenah. Town of Rushford gave him 13 and there could be scattered votes from other parts of the county.

Closest behind him is Police Justice Henry Falk of Winnebago who now hears the cases which the municipal judge there used to hear. He received at least 213 votes, of which 121 were in the village of Winnebago and 48 in the town of Winnebago. A write-in drive was on in Winnebago to have him elected since a question might arise as to whether the municipal judge or police justice would hear certain cases.

The police justice post was created after the former municipal judge, Otto Ansonge, died. The municipal judge office will disappear when the new court reorganization law takes effect in 1962.

Towns to Drop County Library Contributions

Neenah, Menasha
City Facilities
Used by Citizens

Neenah — Town of Neenah voters Tuesday night at their annual meeting approved withdrawing from the county library system and contributing to the Neenah Public Library.

They are being joined in this by the town of Menasha while at the town of Clayton annual meeting Tuesday afternoon the residents instructed the town board to find out what the others were doing.

Chairman Laurel Heaney of the town of Neenah said that the town's residents were more inclined to use the Neenah library than the county library which is now part of the Oshkosh system.

The town this year paid $1,980 for support of the county library, based on its equalized valuation share. It has 598 residents listed as borrowers at the Neenah library which figures that it costs $5.50 to serve each registered borrower.

Joint Resolution

He indicated a resolution would be presented to the county board, along with one from Town Chairman Amos D. Page of the town of Menasha, for their towns to withdraw from the county library as of next year. This action was approved at the town meeting.

"I don't think we have used the county library very much," Heaney stated.

Contributing $4,000 to Elisha D. Smith public library of Menasha, Page explained at the Menasha town meeting, was approved by the board because the library was provided less money by the city of Menasha for 1960 operations and because town residents may borrow books there without paying fees.

Page said the town probably will withdraw from the county library system and have its Maplewood district, east of the lake, use the Menasha library, and the western portion use the Neenah library service area.

In the last year, Page said, the town paid $6,000 for county library service, and no one in the Maplewood area used its service and 902 books were borrowed in the western section.

Clayton Action

Milton Westphal, town of Clayton clerk, read a letter from the Neenah librarian, E. R. Kunert, saying the library board was considering what should be done about non-residents listed as borrowers, whether the towns should contribute to the library budget or if a flat rate per year should be charged.

Town Chairman Frank Metz said the town makes quite a bit of use of the county library through books for the schools and the homemakers clubs as well as the one-third part of the town which is in the Winneconne school district that also uses the county library.

Westphal said he checked with the Neenah librarian and found that 171 persons were listed from the town of Clayton, which would mean a cost of about $935. The town has paid $840 to the county library as its share.

One person thought it was mostly the high school students from the town using the Neenah library but Westphal replied there are only 67 high school students from the town going to Neenah High school.

After a half hour of discussion the residents voted to refer the matter to the town board to see what the other town boards are doing. "You don't want to get left out and you don't want to get hooked," one resident remarked.

City Attorney Giese Resigns in Menasha

Menasha — William R. Giese, Menasha city attorney since 1954, has resigned effective April 30, as announced in a letter to Mayor R. G. DuCharme. He cites the press of his private law practice.

Giese said he had wanted to leave his post before his present term but stayed at the mayor's request. Another city attorney will be elected April 19 at the city council's annual organizational meeting.

Mueller Receives 153 Votes in Judge Race

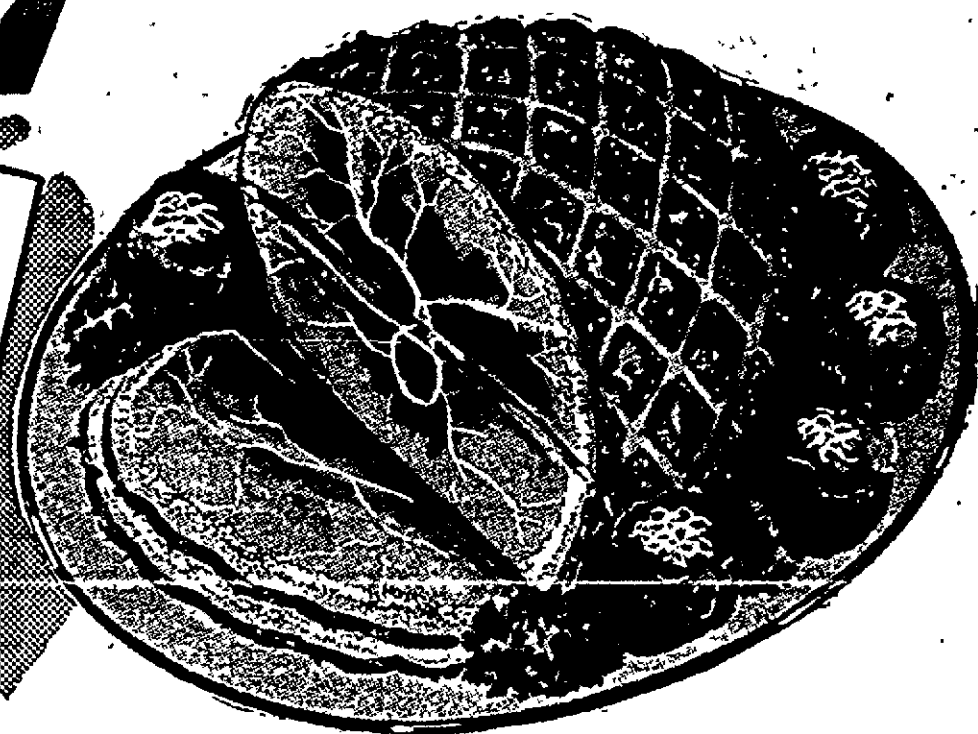

Menasha — County Judge Herbert J. Mueller polled 153 votes to lead all Menasha vote getters in Tuesday's election to name a municipal judge for Winneconne.

More than 50 Twin City and area men received at least one vote. One voter's choice was James Hoffa.

Town of Menasha Ends Year With $180,115 Balance, Up $89,000

Menasha — Town of Menasha ended its fiscal year March 31 with a general cash balance of $180,115, compared to $89,111 last year, the annual report distributed Tuesday at the town meeting disclosed.

Resources, including $261,117 state income tax rebates, totaled $396,834. To that was added $325,326 in 1959 net tax collections for a total of $722,160.

From that was taken a total of $542,045 in orders and other town obligations paid during the fiscal year from the general fund.

Disbursements from other accounts were $72,797 from the highway fund; $7,091 from the fire fund; $4,182 from the welfare fund; $9,630 from the snow fund; and $135 from the Brighton Beach road fund.

Present balances of those funds are: $180,115, general fund; $9,728, highway; $9,397, welfare; $3,253, snow; $4,012, fire; and $182, Brighton Beach road fund, a total of $206,690.

Change Fund Name: Town Chairman A. M. O. Page explained that during the last year the town board had changed the name of the poor fund to welfare fund.

Page, explaining the $5,000 paid to Herman and Frieda Peters for Fritse park, the town's only park, said the town board this year hopes to develop the land. Some state funds are available for financing public access ways to Little Lake Butte des Morts, and the board plans to build a boat landing there, Page said.

The board also hopes to establish a park in the eastern portion of the town, Page added.

Residents of the Brighton Beach area will be reimbursed their special assessments of last year, since they were allowed to withdraw their road from the town system. Removal was approved by the board when the residents were unwilling to deed over enough land for a standard right-of-way for a standard-width road. The narrow road there prevents proper snow removal equipment operation, he said.

Sewage Problem

On the town's sewage problems, Page said nothing could be accomplished at the town meeting since McMahon Engineering company has not completed its estimate and survey. Page stated a public hearing will be called when the report is in and the board can set assessments for the project.

(The state board of health recently ordered the town to provide sewage treatment because of possible well water contamination.)

Page said the town board also is studying a public water supply for the Maplewood district, to include a standpipe near the Highway 47 and Midway road intersection. About four wells would supply the water.

The citizens denied application from John Dombrowski, proprietor of the Town Club, at Ninth and Racine streets, for a package beer license. One citizen said, "There are enough places for young people to pick up package beer."

A motion calling for at least six town board meetings a year in public buildings died for lack of a second. It was explained that the town clerk's home, in which town board meetings are held and open to the public, is considered a public building while the clerk holds his office.

Street lights on County Trunk P and in the Palisades lane areas will be considered by the board, Page promised, as will warning signs in the Palisades area, where children play in streets and cars drive through rapidly at times.

The towns of Neenah and Menasha, Page told one citizen who asked about building codes, are working on a joint code to ensure good plumbing, heating and electrical systems in new homes.

Tax rates for 1959 are $19.69 per $1,000 valuation in the area west of the lake and $17.60 in the Maplewood district. The latter area also has had special assessments of $1 for the Brighton Beach road and $5 for sewer charges in the Lynch plat.

Hours for the town dumping grounds, on County Trunk QQ, are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Wednesdays and Saturdays, Page reminded.

Neenah Town Okays Budget of $110,300

Assessor's Pay Raised to $1,000 At Annual Meeting

Neenah — Residents of the town of Neenah raised their assessor's salary to $1,000 and adopted a budget of $110,362 for the fiscal year which be-gan April 1 when they met

Tuesday night at the Lake-view school.

The budget is $2,700 below that spent for the last year and includes $18,000 which the town owes to Lakeview school on its tax collection.

Earl Hughes, former town chairman, moved the as-sessor's salary be raised to $1,000 if it is legal to increase the salary during the middle of his term. The assessor, Paul Becker, last year received $532 in salary and expenses and the proposed budget called for $700 which would in-clude some extra help.

Police Protection
Armin Schroeder, director of the Lakeview school board, inquired about the town board providing police protection if desired by the schools. Some-times the need is more than the county police can supply, Schroeder said, as he cited daytime patrolling of the school areas, patrolling at night when there are meet-ings at the schools and also for window peepers.

Kenneth Heinz of the town board spoke briefly on the new state law on high school districts and the alternatives facing the town. A review of what is being contemplated in the regional planning program was given by Al Groves.

UWM Provost Notes Post-War Changes in U.S. Foreign Policy

Neenah — The general changes from a containment foreign policy of the 1945 period to the present policy were outlined by J. Martin Klotzsche, provost of University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee, for Woman's Tuesday club Tuesday afternoon.

Speaking at the Boys' Brigade building, Dr. Klotzsche said the picture of containment has changed substantially. Neutral countries saw what happened in Hungary and Laos and now are determined to protect their own integrity, he pointed out. Our policy of containment has caused the Soviets to abandon unprofitable aggression and turn to a new foreign policy, a non-violent type of economic competition, he said.

A second change in our policy is a change of attitude toward colonialism, Dr.

Klotzsche listed. After the war we faced the uncomfortable dilemma of supporting European powers, yet being in sympathy toward peoples trying to throw off colonial power. "That conflict is not as great in 1960." There has been a tremendous surge toward self government which has resulted in a change of attitude by colonial powers themselves, he explained. "A great psychological barrier has been crossed."

Military Aspects
After World War II, United States foreign policy was conceived pretty much in security terms, with the military aspects of that policy given high priority. "Now the picture is quite different." Without laying our guns aside, we now can pay more attention to our plows, he said.

We now can afford to go beyond the narrow concept of security and think of humanitarianism and decency concepts in foreign policy, he said. The Soviets are beginning to turn to the more subtle means of economic and cultural infiltration, he pointed out.

Simply to assume science and technology are going to bring the peoples of the world closer together in understanding is an unrealistic point of view, warned Dr. Klotzsche. There is a high degree of international illiteracy. This is one of the paradoxes we, as a people, must face, he said.

Way of Life
We have in our possession a set of ideas, known as "our way of life," that incorporates freedom, justice, integrity, dignity and the worth of the individual. Yet we find ourselves uncomfortable when other people use these ideas, in an idiom different from the way we are used to expressing them, he said.

He pointed to the reluctance on the part of the American people in assuming the responsibility that has been thrust on us as a world power. We still have reservations on the role the United States should play in world affairs. We look back with nostalgia to our days of isolationism, knowing full well we cannot return to them, he explained. "We show a better understanding of our role than in 1945."

Looking at foreign policy over two generations, the American people have taken a romantic view he said. We now have a more mature attitude toward working with other powers. Historically we had shunned entangling alliances and involvement with other countries in international agreements, he explained.

"I believe there has been an impressive decline in partisanship in foreign policy in recent years." We have recognized the danger in letting foreign policy become strictly partisan questions.

Determine Course
Dr. Klotzsche believes 1960 can well be a decisive point in foreign policy, where the free world will determine its course of action to get the uncommitted nations on our side. We must identify ourselves with the hopes and aspirations of peoples everywhere—only in this way can freedom be extended to areas where it doesn't exist.

Discussing the summit meetings, the educator said summit conferences have the effect of dampening potential crises. They "keep problems below the explosive point." He feels there is hope for agreement on weapons control, possibly due to both sides being worried about new nations becoming nuclear powers. This may be the last chance for preventing the spread of nuclear power into new hands, he said.

County Backs Sen. Kennedy By Big Margin

Tops Humphrey by 5,023 Votes; Rural Turnout Light

Oshkosh — Winnebago county voters Tuesday endorsed Sen. John Kennedy for the Democratic presidential nomination with 11,852 votes to 6,839 for Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota.

Vice Pres. Richard Nixon polled 13,202 Republican votes without opposition in an overall light vote. Outside of Neenah and Menasha, where there were heated local contests, voting was light, particularly in the rural areas.

The combined Democratic vote was almost 19,000 compared to 13,000 for the Republicans. In the November, 1956, election the GOP polled 17,800 gubernatorial votes to 15,500 for the Democrats while in the fall of 1956 the Republicans had more than 25,000 to 15,000 for the Democrats. Apparently the Republicans either remained at home Tuesday or may have crossed over into the Democratic column in normally Republican Winnebago county.

Kennedy piled up a whopping 3,082 votes to 731 for Humphrey in Menasha with Nixon getting 1,299. Neenah gave the Republican candidate 3,095 votes but the combined Democratic total was 3,132 with Kennedy getting 1,810.

Township voters followed the same pattern, Republican but not more than the combined Democratic vote. The Oshkosh pattern was the same.

The referendum to amend the state constitution to permit the state to make appropriations for the improvement of port facilities lost by a narrow margin in Winnebago county, 11,024 to 10,985.

Favor Change
Menasha voters favored the change 2,245 to 1,976. Neenah also voted for the change but by a closer 2,813 to 2,806 vote. The townships approved the change 2,456 to 2,288 and it also carried by a small margin in the village of Winnebago and city of Omro.

Oshkosh voters, however, provided the margin that defeated the amendment locally. There 3,066 voters favored the change with 3,672 opposed.

Five Lettermen Form Nucleus of MHS Track Team

Big Rebuilding Job Task of Bluejay Coach Bernie Le Roy

Menasha — A nearly complete rebuilding job is the task of Menasha track coach Bernie LeRoy as he prepares his Bluejays for a busy April and May schedule.

LeRoy dished out 19 major letters at awards day last May and of that delegation only five went to boys who didn't pick up their diplomas the next month.

The Menasha coach, who in his seven previous seasons as track mentor, has coached performers who accounted for 13 of the 14 school records, has a squad of some 40 candidates, including freshmen.

The highest-scoring returning letterman is Dave Ristau, who collected 41 points last year competing in the dashes, broad jump and relay.

Other returnees include Dexter Below (74), hurdles and high jump; Pete LaValle (6), hurdles; and Steve Hanchett (4) and Bob Stumpf (4), medley relay. Pole vaulter Bill Gerhard won a monogram two years ago but didn't score enough points last spring to repeat.

Three other squad members, John Mayer and Jim Cleary in the half mile, and Bob Cook, pole vault, broke into the scoring column last spring but didn't earn letters.

Leading point winners lost by graduation were "Rocky" Jersild (65), Ron Haass (58), "Chuck" Weber (47), Tom Stepanski (45) and Jerry Sobieszyk (35).

Other seniors were Dan Spilski Jars 602 Count in City League
Neenah — Joe Spilski rattled a 238 game and 602 series to sweep laurels in the Neenah City Bowling league Tuesday night at the Muench's Recreation alleys.

William Schmidt posted 593, Lloyd Schreiber 591, Si Barlow 586, Clarence Toepler 579, Wally Sellnow 577, Bert Boss 576 and Jack Schroeder 570. Schmidt and Sellnow bowled 225 singles.

Central Brass won two games and leads Friendly Bar by three lines with a 59-34 record.

Winneconne, Omro Coaches Leave Posts

Wolves' O'Brien At Enter Business At Fond du Lac

Winneconne — The Little Nine conference will have at least two new basketball coaches as a result of the announcement today that Tom O'Brien and Bob Sutherland had submitted their resignations to the Winneconne and Omro school boards, respectively.

Sutherland will teach history, coach basketball and be freshman football coach at Whitnall High school, a new school at Hales Corners. O'Brien plans to go into business at Fond du Lac, his home town.

Sutherland, a Madison native, taught and coached three years at Omro. His basketball teams had a 24-15 record in conference play and an overall 31-28. He is a White-water State college graduate.

O'Brien, who starred at Oshkosh State college, spent two years at Winneconne. His teams had an 8-18 conference mark and 15-28 overall. The 1959 team won a subdistrict tournament title.

Driver Forfeits
Menasha — Dennis J. Lehner, 20, route 2, Shiocton, forfeited $10 and costs today for inattentive driving. He was arrested Monday afternoon on Milwaukee street after a policeman saw him driving while sipping a bottle of soda water. He told the policeman he had not had time for lunch.

Stilp Deposed by Write-in Candidate

John Gollner Sets Menasha Precedent; Schanke Defeated

Menasha — Fifth Ward Alderman George Stilp Tuesday was handed a decisive defeat by John J. Gollner, who began a write-in campaign for the council seat two weeks ago.

Gollner received 405 votes to Stilp's 231.

Gollner apparently is the only Menasha alderman ever elected by write-in against a nominee whose name was on the ballot. Stilp had served from 1936-1939 and since 1954. Second Ward Ald. Gordon Schanke came in third in a 3-way race. His council seat will be taken by Robert A. Mielke, a former alderman, who received 461 votes. Schanke, with 308 votes, also faced Edward V. Hirsch, who began a write-in campaign one week ago. Schanke was elected in 1950, 1952 and 1958, defeating Mielke in the latter contest.

Raymond C. Ziellinski, First ward alderman, received 287 votes to Raymond F.

Ziellinski's 244. Ziellinski was elected in 1957 and reelected in 1958.

Largest Race
The largest race was in the Fourth ward, where five candidates vied, and the incumbent, Edward Stinski, was re-elected. Stinski received 670 votes and carried the ward's two precincts, 267 in the first and 403 in the second. Stinski was elected to his seventh term, the second in succession. Stinski's closest competitor was Donald H. Kemps, 116 and 252 for a ward total of 358. Next in line was Joseph Rippl, 130 and 237, total 367. Walter C. Pawlowski, former Pawlowski received 277 votes to 231 for Stinski.

Elected to 3-Year Terms on the Menasha board of education Tuesday were George Banta III and Mrs. Milton Gaertner. Mrs. Gaertner now is serving on the board. Banta is secretary of George Banta company and Mrs. Gaertner is president of the community council.

In 4-Way Race

Banta, Mrs. Gaertner Win for School Board

Menasha — Mrs. Milton Gaertner, incumbent, and George Banta III Tuesday won 3-year terms on the Menasha board of education in a 4-way race. They defeated Frank A. Rosch and Thomas A. Woodrow.

Banta, a resident of the town of Menasha's Maplewood district, led the school board vote totals with 3,349. Mrs. Gaertner received 2,559 ballots.

Rosch received 1,752 votes and Woodrow, another town resident, 1,738. Banta and Woodrow, with 754 and 577 votes, respectively, carried the town area. Mrs. Gaertner's vote in the Maplewood district was 279 and Rosch's 73.

Banta's ward totals were 282 in First; 527 each in Second and Third; 329 in Fourth ward's first precinct; 614 in second precinct; and 316 in Fifth ward.

Mrs. Gaertner's ward balloting was 252 in First; 505 in Second; 408 in Third; 326 in first precinct of Fourth ward; 494 in second; and 295 in Fifth.

Rosch received 187 in the First ward, 450 in the Second, 217 in Third, 229 in Fourth, received 302 votes in the ward (110 and 192) and Richard J. Reimer, another ex-alderman, 189 in the ward (76 and 113).

Robert L. Sullivan easily won a 4-way race in the Third ward with his 466 votes. His competitors were William Zeininger, a former alderman, 154 votes; Edward F. Arndt, 134; and Frank A. Ryan, 91.

Ald. Lee Sullivan Third ward declined to seek reelection this year.

Litigation, Land Sale
Defeats of Stilp and Schanke are believed due to their support of the Feb. 16 double land deal with First National bank, in which the city sold the Racine street park to the bank and the bank sold its present building to the city for offices, all at a net cash price of $7,500. Last week, a lawsuit blocking the land transfers was filed in Winnebago county circuit court.

Three incumbent supervisors, running unopposed, were reelected. They are Henry Jankowski, First ward, 467; R. M. Sensenbrenner, Third, 714; and Emil J. Pawer, Fifth, 528.

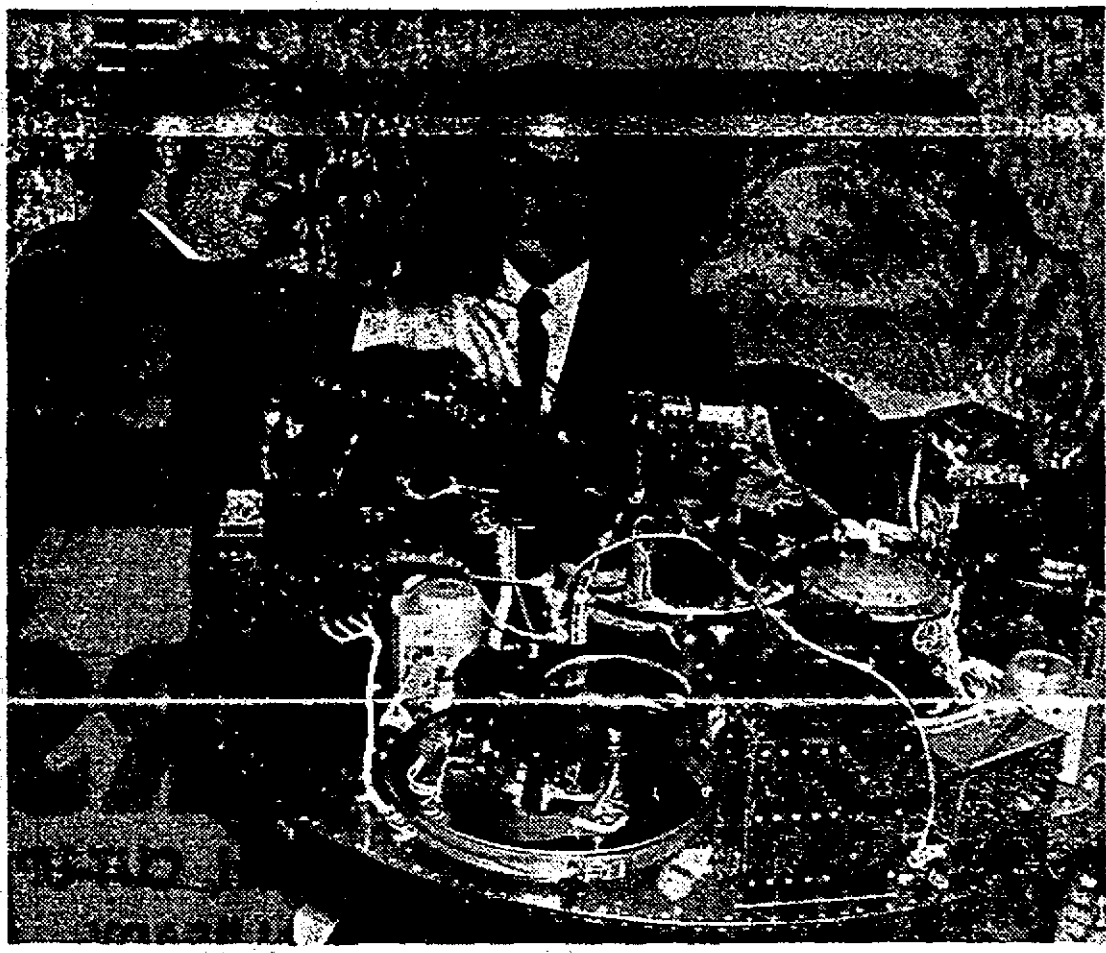

Neenah Voter Turnout Hits 79.3 Per Cent

Neenah — Voter turnout in Tuesday's election came to 79.3 per cent of the number of registered voters, City Clerk R. V. Hauser said today. A total of 6,292 votes were cast out of a possible 7,939.

The Sixth ward with a 3-way aldermanic race, turned out the largest vote percentage, 83 per cent, with 632 votes out of a possible 763 being cast. Next was 82 per cent for the First ward which had 632 out of 771 voters show up at the polls.

Ninth ward voters were slightly behind with 81.9 per cent of the eligible votes cast. There were 696 out of a possible 850 voters who voted. Tied with 80 per cent each were the fourth ward, 619 out of 775 votes cast, and the Eighth ward, 780 out of 974 votes cast.

Seventh ward had 79.7 of its

Over 82 Per Cent of Eligible Voters Cast Menasha Ballots

Menasha — Approximately 82.6 per cent of Menasha's registered voters turned out to cast their ballots in Tuesday's election.

A total of 6,292 residents were eligible to vote and 5,193 made their way to the polls. Ward 1 had the best percentage with 83 per cent of a possible 628 for 548 votes cast. The lowest was in Ward 5 where 71.3 per cent of the eligibles voted. There were 942 registered and 672 voting. Other totals included 1,262 of 1,461 for 86.3 per cent in the second precinct of Ward 4, 1,116 of 1,312 for 85.1 per cent in Ward 2, 727 of 851 for 84.2 per cent in the first precinct of Ward 4 and 870 of 1,098 for 78.2 per cent in Ward 3.

In 1956, about 74 per cent of the registered citizens voted in the spring election while two years ago it was 72.1. The first precinct of Ward voters turn out, 547 out of 686; Fifth ward had 79 per cent, 733 out of 927; Tenth ward had a 76.7 turnout, 623 out of 812; Second ward, 76 per cent, 522 out of 687; and Third ward, 72.8 per cent, 505 votes cast out of a possible 693 registered voters.

Two Elected to Winnebago Board

Winnebago—Ernest Glasshoff was reelected to another term on the village board and Ben H. Bockin, former village trustee and president, was elected to succeed L. J. Campbell on the board. Campbell did not seek reelection.

Glasshoff received 266 votes and Bockin 248 votes to win the two posts. Trailing were Leonard Ihrig with 196 votes and Fred Gehrke with 103 votes.

4 turned in their ballots at the city offices at approximately 9:45 p.m. and the final totals were in by 11:45.

New London Mayor Beat by Alderman

Walter Fredericks Takes Post From Gus Krueger by 121 Votes

Wauwata — Veteran Mayor Gus O. Krueger was defeated by long-time Third ward Ald. Walter Fredericks in New London Tuesday to highlight an election that featured heavy voting and successful write-in campaigns.

The most Fredericks successful write-in occurred in New London also when former Ald. Matt Burton regained his Fifth ward seat in a 2-day campaign against newcomer Guy Ingersoll by a 126-93 margin. Incumbent Ald. Vernon Burton, no relation, did not stand for reelection.

Fredericks followed what has become a family tradition in facing Krueger. Two years ago his brother, the late Earl Fredericks, just barely missed unseating Krueger. This year Walter, an alderman and supervisor from the Outagamie county third ward for 12 years, did the trick with a 1,021 to 900 margin. Krueger was mayor for 10 years.

Gains Revenge
Rolland Jepson gained revenge in Manawa's Fourth ward by upsetting incumbent Ald. Gordon Suehs in a successful write-in campaign that furnished a 57-50 margin. Suehs defeated Jepson in the aldermanic race two years ago.

The report of the Clintonville election was stalled when the First ward aldermanic contest was recounted. Ald. Eugene Dexter won his fourth term on the council by defeating Monfort Obrecht, 270-268.

Wauwata had only one contest on the ballot but it resulted in the defeat of a school board member, Elwood Eisentraut. He ran fourth in the race for the three seats. Raymond E. Martin joined incumbents John H. Steiner and Russell H. Smith on the board.

William Weyers, a newcomer in politics, defeated Reinhold Harp as a trustee in Hortonville by a 257 to 174 margin.

Dr. J. M. Cutler won reelection as treasurer in the only contest on the Marion ballot. He defeated two opponents, polling 368 votes to 84 for Blaine Miller and 54 for Donald Lubinski.

Clifford Schmidt became the new Second ward alderman in Weyauwega where none of the candidates attracted opposition. Lack of opposition marked most of the county's ballots, but the presidential primary attracted the largest turnout on the county's records, more than 10,000 voters.

Also unusual in the election was the substantial showing of Democratic sentiment in the traditionally solid Republican county. In fact, the Democratic primary attracted more voters than the GOP by a 5,375 to 4,892 margin. In the past the Democrats could be expected to poll less than half that total.

Wauwata had only one contest on the ballot but it resulted

Contests Scarce On Ballots in Calumet County

Chilton — Brillion and Chilton got a new alderman apiece Tuesday in an election that was marked by the lack of contests in the county.

Alan R. Behnke defeated Thomas A. Krizeny, 115 to 62, to replace First ward Ald. John Mumm, who did not run. It was the only contest on the ballot.

Jerome Koenig tipped Elroy Korb, 101 to 88, to become the Third ward alderman to replace Eldred Hedrick, who did not run.

Write-in Campaign
Although the Koenig-Korb race was the only contest on the ballot, a write-in campaign started two days ago by Elmer Steinmetz brought him 79 votes in the impromptu contest in the Second ward, but incumbent Ald. Elmer Daun was an easy 190-79 winner.

The town of Stockbridge voted 111 to 96 to defeat a proposed zoning ordinance. It would have been the second such ordinance in the county.

Despite the lack of local contests, the election turned out 5,425 voters, a good showing. Most interest was in the presidential primary in which traditionally solid Republican Calumet county polled 3,771 Democratic ballots to 1,634 in the GOP primary.

Lawrence Says

Red China Next Member of 'Nuclear Club'

Atomic Bomb Will Force Recognition Of Peiping Regime

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington—The next step in the game of "nuclear blackmail" seems to be approaching. Evidently red China has been secretly aided by the Soviet Union in preparing for admission to the "nuclear club." The big question soon will be what Lawrence price the free world is to be asked to pay to try to persuade red China to accept limitations on the testing and developing of atomic weapons.

President Eisenhower revealed that, in trying to get a ban on nuclear tests, the "driving force" among the free nations is an effort to prevent the "nuclear club" of nations from growing. It has been widely assumed that a similar motive actuates the Soviet Union.

A London dispatch, however, quotes "The Daily Mail" as saying that red China plans to explode her first atomic bomb in June or July of this year and that aiding in the preparations is Prof. Bruno Pontecorvo, a British scientist who defected to Russia in 1950. The newspaper adds that the coming explosion of a big atomic bomb is related to the development of "three smaller atomic bombs believed to have been put together with Soviet help during the past few years."

Soviet Aid
On Jan. 11, in a dispatch from Hong Kong, Robert P. Martin, a regional correspondent of "U. S. News and World Report" gave first details concerning red China's plan to become a nuclear power. He wrote that the Soviet Union, while at first reluctant, began giving help to the red Chinese in 1955 with gifts of various ingredients necessary to make the A-bomb. The Soviets signed an agreement with the red Chinese for scientific and technical cooperation and announced they would furnish some experimental reactors. The dispatch added:

"The Soviet Union has been the key factor in getting China started in nuclear physics. But the Chinese communists got an unexpected shot in the arm when a number of highly trained and skilled Chinese physicists returned to Peiping from the United States after the Korean truce was signed."

Psychological Impact
"The Chinese communists have their own rocket-research program, headed by Dr. Chien Hsueh-Shen, chairman of the all-China Automation society."

"On the basis of the evidence, the Chinese reds are more interested in the psychological impact than in producing a usable military weapon. For that reason, the Hong Kong experts say that the Chinese probably will not even wait to engineer a bomb. An explosive device set off in China and monitored throughout the world would be just as effective as a dropped bomb in notifying the world that China had become a nuclear power."

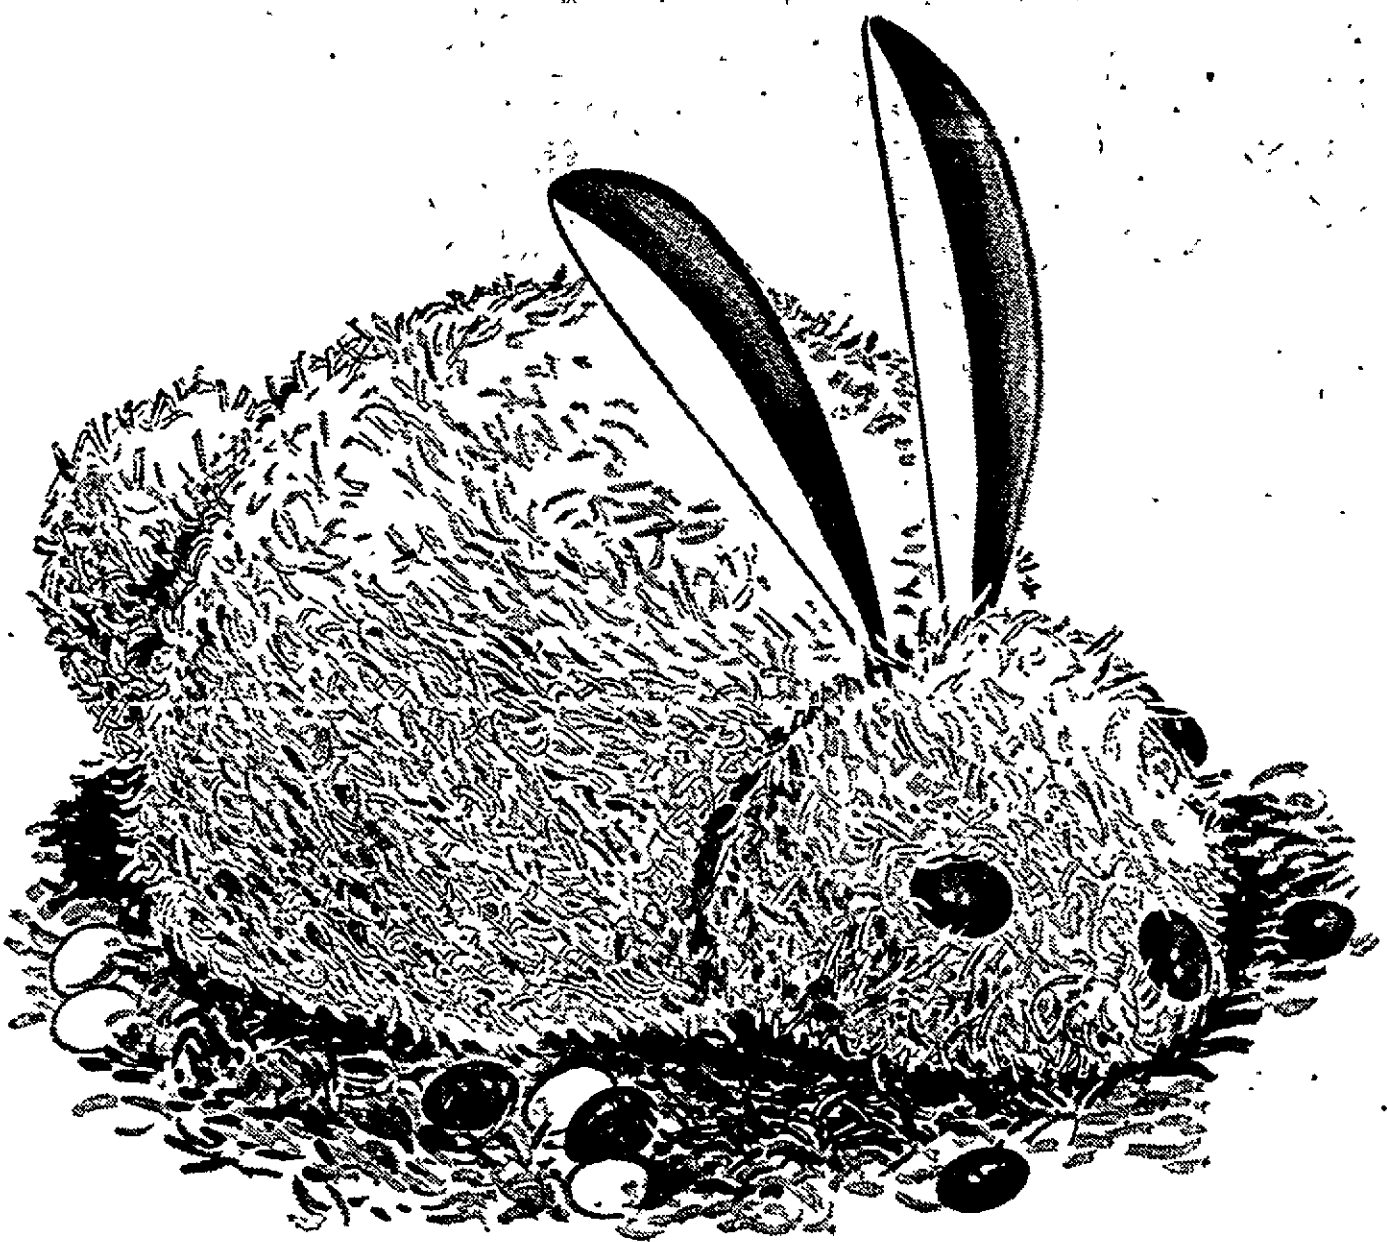

"In effect, the Chinese are believed to be pushing headlong toward nuclear power as one way of 'showing' their way into international acceptance as a political and military force."

The 'Club' Grows
A source in Washington intimately familiar with atomic matters was asked how red China or other nations could get the "know-how" to make atomic weapons. He answered:

"Simply from the general advance of science. If they wished to, they could read the famous Smythe report which was written in 1945. There are plenty of good scientists floating around the world. Also, you can't tell the difference between an experiment that is ostensibly aimed at a peaceful purpose and one that has to do with military science."

"There is no way to limit the 'nuclear club' except by international agreement. France has refused to be brushed aside and insists on continuing her tests. Other nations may agree to refrain from testing or production only after they have exacted from other nations a price for their forbearance. It is predicted by scientists that someday Sweden, and West Germany will be among the nuclear powers in the West, and that some of the communist nations, now satellites, will be brought into the 'club' through Soviet scientific aid."

Maybe you haven't noticed him lately! Perhaps you haven't thought of him beyond the fact that he carries out your order, or clerks behind our counters, or stocks the shelves you so quickly empty.

Next time you shop, look at this boy, and the others like him—from their ranks sprang the world's largest industry—food retailing, and they are its leaders for tomorrow.

Chances are he works part-time—after school and on Saturdays, and now because of Shurfine Foods, he has the opportunity to compete for a two-and-one-half year fully-accredited college scholarship in food distribution.

This Shurfine Scholarship Grant will be made to worthy young men in our stores—maybe the one who carried your order last.

This Is the Chariot Race scene from the 11-Oscar winning movie "Ben-Hur" with top actor of the year Charlton Heston driving the lead vehicle. The Biblical classic that won the best movie of 1959 trophy broke all Academy Award records, receiving two more Oscars than the best movie of 1958, "Gigi," with nine golden statuettes.

French Actress Didn't Expect To Win Oscar

Simone Signoret Cries When Called To Accept Award

Hollywood — Simone Signoret, a 39-year-old French actress who was born in Wiesbaden, Germany, Monday night won the top feminine Academy award and made herself the heroine of the housewife set the world over.

Simone Signoret, "I didn't think I had a chance to win 'til just a few days before the Academy awards. Then I got the virus like everybody else in this crazy business."

The actress, wearing a Jean Desses smoky black sheer gown punctuated with black velvet dots and a slim-draped, ankle length silhouette, cried when called to accept the award.

"I wanted to be so much dignified," she said, as she clutched the Oscar. "But you cannot be dignified at a time like this. So all I can say is, I thank you all very much."

Demand Increases Outside New York For Live Theater

New York — Noel Behn, managing director of off-Broadway's Cherry Lane theater, feels extensive tours are likely to develop for off-Broadway shows.

He says there is an increasing demand outside of New York for more inexpensive and diversified theatrical attractions, especially at university and community theaters.

Among the successful shows contemplating such tours are "Krapp's Last Tape," "The Zoo Story," "The Threepenny Opera," and "Little Mary Sunshine."

Miss Signoret, of five actresses nominated for the top actress award, was the only one who put on an active campaign to win it.

"My husband Yves Montand, was here to do a picture with Marilyn Monroe, so I had nothing else to do but spend three months at the Polo lounge of the Beverly Hills hotel, shaking hands with everybody. I did not think I would win it, I just wanted to be friendly."

She said "Room at the Top" had made a profound change in her career.

"I have been in many good French films, 'Diabolique' among them but I was never known outside of France. Some of my pictures played in the art houses in the United States, but they never cracked through the barrier so that the American public could see them."

Miss Dilling Promoter of Harp Music

BY RAY SHAW
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Mildred Dilling ranks second to Harpo Marx as the best known harpist in the land. But this doesn't miff the queen of the strings, for she is in favor of anything that will promote harp music, even if it means playing second fiddle to a comedian.

Miss Dilling carries on a one-woman campaign to show that the harp is every bit as proper a solo instrument as the violin or piano.

Every year she packs 15 harps into a station wagon and embarks on 25,000-mile cross-country tours of the United States and Canada.

Music With Lecture
In drafty church parlors and cavernous concert halls, she rolls out her harps for a session of heavenly music and a lecture on the history and background of the harp.

Her campaign, understandably, is limited because there's only one Mildred Dilling.

She has, however, made thousands of friends for the harp, among them Sir Laurence Olivier, Bob Hope, Deanna Durbin and, oh yes, Harpo Marx, who happens to be one of her former students.

at her recitals and hops to the stage to play an encore Harpo occasionally shows up with her.

Show Biz Democrats Promise Spectacular At National Convention

Many Entertainment World Stars Serve on Party's Arts Committee

BY BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

Hollywood — The greatest political show on earth — that's what the show biz wing of the Democratic party promises for the national convention in Los Angeles this July.

Climax of the 5-day spectacular may be the biggest rally of American politics. The two candidates will make their acceptance speeches following a lavish show at the Memorial Coliseum, capacity 102,000-plus. Present plan is to put chairs the field and raise the total to 116,000.

All this, plus entertainment at convention sessions in the sports arena next door to the Coliseum, is being planned by the party's Committee For the Arts. Entertainment chairman is film producer-director-writer George Seaton. But since he will be filming a picture in Germany this summer, screen writer Allen Rivkin has shouldered most of the burden.

Rivkin, as national director of the arts committee, has scores of entertainment figures in his group. Among the more noted names: Marlon Brando, Myrna Loy, Robert Ryan, Frank Sinatra, Sammy Davis, Jr., Mercedes McCambridge, Jan Sterling, Claire Trevor, Ralph Bellamy, Lauren Bacall.

Performing Stars
"Our big job is to produce the closing night show," Rivkin reported. "It will be a tremendous program with top outdoor acts such as appear at state fairs. We will have many big show business names and all of them will perform, not just take bows."

"The entertainment will begin about 5:30. Around 7:15, the candidates will arrive for their introductions and acceptances. It should all be over about 8. Candidates these days are hep; they know they can't hold an audience with too long a speech."

Rivkin said he had no concern about filling the cavernous stadium. Fifteen thousand will be moving from the convention. In addition, "Golden Circle" tickets will be sold to party faithful who want a seat up front.

Winner Unknown
"We should be able to fill the rest of the seats with the public," Rivkin said. "People will want to see the climax to the drama they have watched on TV."

The arts committee will also line up entertainment for the daily sessions — national anthem singers plus some surprise features. The aim is to make it an interesting show for home viewers while still paying attention to convention business. Among the innovations: electronic devices to speed the dreariness of balloting.

Special Film
As in 1956, Dore Schary will produce a 26-minute film about achievements claimed by the Democrats. It will be shown on home screens at the same time it is projected in the sports arena.

Supposing the convention deadlocks and doesn't have a presidential nominee by the July 15 closing time?

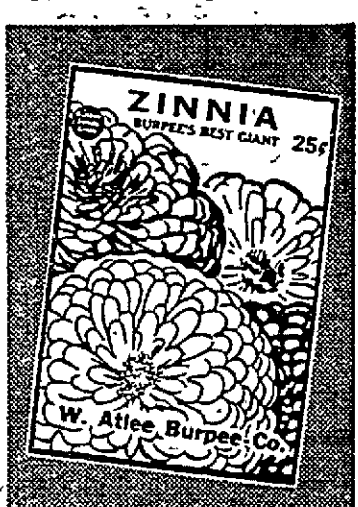

"We'll have to have one," said Rivkin. When the Democrats move out, the Dodgers move in to continue the 1960 baseball season.

College Theater to Give Three One-Acts Tonight, Thursday

Lawrence College theater will present three student-directed 1-act plays at 7:30 p.m. tonight and Thursday night in the Stansbury auditorium of the Music-Drama center.

Radder Elected In Sixteenth Ward

2 Incumbents Beat Opponents; Other Officials Unopposed

One new alderman was elected and two incumbents returned to office in Tuesday's election. Seven aldermen and five Appleton city officers had no opposition.

In the Sixteenth ward, Clifford H. Radder, 1601 N. Superior street, defeated Edward D. Koleske, 1813 N. Oneida street, by 10 votes, to gain the chair of Ald. Clarence A. Lautenschlager, who served the last two years and did not seek reelection.

Radder, who will join the council at its April 19 reorganization meeting, received 342 votes to Koleske's 332.

Incumbent Ald. Homer Malmstrom, Second ward, defeated Harold C. Calmes, a 509 to 329. Malmstrom has been an alderman for 10 years. Calmes has tried twice for Third ward alderman and twice in the Second ward.

Malmstrom Groh

Incumbent Ald. R. P. Groh beat former Ald. Harold McGinnis, 624 to 244. Groh has served on the council for six years.

Appleton's voter turnout Tuesday was probably the highest on record, for the spring election. There were 14,404 votes were cast and 20,357 registered voters. That is 71 per cent, slightly below the 1952 primary, when about 13,388 votes were cast.

Tuesday Vote Sets Record For County

A vote of 28,065 in Tuesday's presidential race gave Outagamie county its heaviest voter turn-out in history for a spring election.

This was nearly 3,000 more votes than were cast in the 1952 spring balloting, 25,200, and almost 12,000 more than in spring of 1956, when it was 16,555.

Although Tuesday's count was a record for a spring primary, it still trailed the 1952 and 1956 fall elections, when the totals were 36,319 and 34,731 respectively.

Gamble Benedict Seeks Marriage License in South

Dillon S. C. — An American heiress and her Roman-ian born sweetheart, who failed in an effort to wed in Paris last Christmas, have come to the Carolina tobacco country seeking to seal their love in marriage.

Gamble Benedict and Andre Pourbeanu filed their application for a marriage license Tuesday. The license will be available late today under South Carolina's 24-hour waiting period.

But there were other hurdles.

In New York, the Benedict family's lawyer said: "This time he will not get away with it. All necessary measures will be taken to effect her return home."

The 19-year-old heiress to the Remington typewriter fortune and her 35-year-old suitor, formerly a chauffeur and now a hair stylist, vanished Monday from New York City. A Brooklyn magistrate then issued a warrant for her arrest.

Miss Benedict is charged with being a wayward minor. She already was a ward of the court as an outgrowth of her trip to Europe last December aboard a small oil tanker with Pourbeanu.

Appleton Woman GOP Delegate

Mrs. John C. Stevens, 1721 S. Peabody street, will be a delegate for Vice President Richard Nixon at the national Republican convention beginning July 25 in Chicago.

Mrs. Stevens is vice chairman of the Outagamie county GOP.

She will Mrs. Stevens speak on the election at the annual county GOP caucus at 7:30 p. m. Thursday at the courthouse annex.

out of a possible 17,660, or 75.7 per cent. There was a 4-way race for mayor in 1952.

Unopposed incumbent aldermen and the votes they received are: Fourth ward, Al Stoegbauer, 419; Sixth, Charles Captain, 491; Tenth, Harold Hannemann, 546; Twelfth, Roylance Pointer, 451; Eighteenth, Gerald Wagner, 599; and Twentieth, Ervin Bogdan, 439.

Unopposed city officers and their total votes are: Mayor Clarence A. Mitchell, 11,547; City Clerk and Comptroller Elden J. Broehm, 11,494; City Attorney Don L. Jury, 11,335; City Treasurer Ray L. Feuerstein, 11,636; and City Assessor John A. Pierre, 11,176.

New Books

Presidential Hopfuls Studied by Stewart Alsop

An uncomfortable situation for a publishing company arose a few months ago when Nelson Rockefeller dropped out of the presidential race. The company had a book about to be released called "Nixon and Rockefeller," and the puff at the top of the book jacket referred to the upcoming race.

The book, written by Columnist Stewart Alsop, was held until new jackets could be printed that read "Rockefeller withdrew—but will he be drafted?"

Despite this last-minute change, the volume is worthwhile reading as a study of political careers and also presents a clear picture of the two men as personalities. It is one of 22 non-fiction and 10 new fiction books on display at the Appleton Public Library.

Wicked, Wicked Ways

Another pre-election volume deals with the man whose fate will be decided at the Democratic convention in Los Angeles. "John Kennedy—a political profile," by James MacGregor Burns, includes a brief history of the Kennedy family and a study of the senator's political theories.

Errol Flynn was not exactly a politician, but the story of this actor by trade and rogue by avocation makes the reader think his theories about how things should be done represent some sort of platform.

"My Wicked, Wicked Ways," an autobiography, was completed shortly before Flynn died. The book points out that all the incredible stories about Flynn are true.

Other new non-fiction titles are "This is where I Came In," by Edward Anthony, a book of impromptu confessions; "The Spirit's Pilgrimage," the autobiography of Madeline Slade, an English woman of privilege who became a disciple of Mahatma Gandhi; and "How to Go Live in the Woods on $10 a Week," by Bradford Angier, an explanation of how to challenge a frontier in northern Canada.

Fiction by Irwin Shaw

Irwin Shaw, author of "The Young Lions," has just written a chilling novel about an American who goes to Rome on a friendship mission and becomes involved in a series of seemingly unrelated events that shatter his conception of himself and produce a change in his values. Among these events, which are touched off by a minor incident, are the disappearance of a girl who falls in love with him, the reappearance of a former wife, and a threat on his life by a young boy.

Self analysis is the theme of novel by William Golding. "Free Fall" tells of the son of a prostitute who through-Record crowds are expected at the Wisconsin district Republican caucuses late in April and the first week in May, according to George Greeley, state GOP executive secretary.

The opinion is based, he said, on record attendance at county caucuses.

The eighth district caucus will be at 8 p. m. Wednesday, May 4, at the Northland hotel, Green Bay.

The Sixth district caucus will be at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, May 5 at Retlaw hotel, Fond du Lac, and the Seventh district will be at 8 p. m. Monday, May 2, at Hotel Wausau, in Wausau.

Biggest Jewelry Sale In U. S. History Starts

New York — One of the greatest jewelry sales in U.S. history goes on today at the Parke-Bernet galleries. It could set a record.

Dealers and private individuals from many parts of the world were expected to jam the auction room to bid on a collection of 158 items appraised at around a million dollars.

600 Seniors Take WSES Examination

Six hundred senior commercial students in Outagamie and Waupaca county high schools have taken proficiency tests given by the Wisconsin State Employment Service, according to Fred R. Gehrke, district supervisor.

Students are tested in typing, shorthand, spelling, vocabulary and are given a battery of clerical aptitude tests.

Results of the tests are available to prospective employers, Gehrke said. A week before graduation cards are sent to students to see if they still are available for work.

Gehrke said 210 job openings of all types were listed during March, compared to 176 in February and 249 a year ago. Greatest demand still is for female production workers.

The office referred 207 workers to employers in March, and 159 were hired. A year ago 255 were referred and 127 hired.

The active file of persons seeking employment was 1,727 on March 31, compared to 1,704 on Feb. 29 and 1,838 a year ago.

6 Other Circuit Officials Run Without Opposition

By The Associated Press

Circuit Judge Arthur Luebke of Beloit was reelected in the 12th Judicial circuit Tuesday, defeating Howard H. Moss, Janesville attorney and former Rock county district attorney.

Luebke had 19,213 votes to 6,744 for Moss in 85 of the 147 precincts reporting to gain an unsurmountable lead. The circuit consists of Rock, Jefferson and Green counties.

Clair Voss, a Waukesha attorney, appeared to be the winner for judge of the newly created second branch of the 22nd Circuit in Waukesha county. In 68 of 78 precincts Voss had 19,689 votes to 17,155 for George Lawler, Waukesha county district attorney.

New Branch

Dist. Judge Robert W. Hansen of Milwaukee won election to the new Branch 13 of Milwaukee Circuit court. Returns from 125 precincts gave Hansen 43,823 votes against 11,379 for Miss Irene F. Gyzinski.

Circuit Judge Ronald A. Dreschler won reelection to Branch 7 of Milwaukee Circuit court, beating Harry Hallway by more than 3 to 1.

Six incumbent circuit judges were unopposed and reelected. They are Myron L. Gordon, Robert W. Landry and Harvey L. Neelen of Milwaukee; Lincoln Neprud of Viroqua, Carl H. Daley of Superior and Richard W. Orton of Lancaster.

Western Powers Prod Soviets for Action on Arms

Geneva — The western powers urged Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin today to seek new instructions from Moscow to get the deadlocked 10-nation disarmament conference moving.

French Delegate Jules Moch said the west expects some sign of Soviet willingness to discuss concrete disarmament measures and corresponding controls.

He reiterated that the Soviet plan for total world disarmament within four years is completely unrealistic and unacceptable to the west in any form as a basis for the discussions.

Zorin, who has turned down the west's plan, gave no indication he intended to ask for new instructions. He repeated his demand for western approval of the Soviet plan.

Washington.—The government had $9,026,600,000 tied up in farm price support program as of Feb. 29. This is about $200 million dollars less than the total a year before that.

Fatigue Tension or Anxiety Causes Various Aches, Pains

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D. "Dear Dr. Molner: I believe this is common among working people. I would like to ask you about fatigue tension."

"I have a tightness or drawing in the top of my stomach, that seems to reach out toward my heart at the Dr. Molner end of the day. Sometimes it is more severe than at others. — Working Woman."

I'm not sure that this is more common among working people than it is among people who have too little to do — and hence spend too much time worrying about themselves.

But let's just talk about hard workers. Such a condition has different terms meaning much the same thing: fatigue tension, or anxiety, or nervous exhaustion, and so on.

A working woman, trying to hold a job and also keep house and help support a family, is up against no small task.

This requires extra effort—getting the washing done, or cleaning the house or doing many other chores — when your entire system, including your nerves, wants to relax. It means using a weekend to toil rather than to rest or have some recreation.

Tension Starts Some people are good organizers and get away with such a schedule very efficiently. Usually, however, such persistent drudgery makes us inefficient. The work gets ahead of us. Result: tension.

Tension can manifest itself variously. Gas, headaches, tightness of muscles, stomach cramps, oh, a lot of ways. It can be intensified by poor nutrition or irregular eating — so be careful to eat a balanced diet. Don't skip breakfast or lunch, either. That decreases efficiency, and fatigue and tension together come faster.

Worry over one's health, or worry over the job, saps our strength. Meet a problem head-on and settle it if you can. A checkup by your doctor often pays valuable dividends.

Crash Leads Sociology Student Into Court's School for Safety

An 18-year-old youth who said he is taking a sociology course delving into the criminal personality will be attending the municipal court's safety school if he wants to keep driving.

Dave E. Joranson, 306 E. South River street, was fined $75 and his driver's license revoked three months for failing to have his car under control Saturday. The revocation was held on the conditions he attends the school and is not arrested for the next year for a moving traffic violation.

Joranson's car hit another a half block south of College avenue after skidding across Memorial drive, though a filling station driveway, then coming into a warehouse, moving a sidewalk six inches and damaging materials inside. He told police that his brakes didn't work and he was driving in low gear.

The conviction will cost him three points, the crash three more, against his driving record.

Leo E. Hughes, Jr., 17, of 1328 N. Viola street, was ordered to pay $3.95 court costs and his license was revoked for four months for driving too fast to avoid an accident and 30 days for having a speedometer out of order.

John R. Black, 38, of 1413 N. Hall street, was fined $75 and charged six points for driving too fast to avoid an accident. He was arrested after his car skidded 52 feet backwards across Highway 47 about half a mile south of Mackville, then 114 feet in a ditch into a pole.

Carlton J. Wiegand, 52, of 853 Third street, Menasha, was fined $40 and charged two points for leaving the scene of an accident on S.

State street near W. Sixth street March 11.

Michael Swiertz, 19, route 3, Appleton, went to jail for a 5-day stay after admitting he drove after his driver's license plates were confiscated by the state for failing to comply with the financial responsibility law. He also was fined $75 on the charge, plus $20 for illegally using license plates and $10 for having no registration on his car. The driving after revocation also carries a mandatory year's license revocation.

Swiertz has a record of three accidents in the last year.

Polio Victim, 12, Breaks Left Leg For Second Time

An old proverb contends bad things come in threes. If this is true, 12-year-old Jimmie Bohren is due for a change in luck; he has had his share of the bad.

Jimmie, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Derold Bohren, 1519 N. Elmer street, was a victim of polio in the 1955 epidemic, and his left leg was paralyzed.

In November, on his way to recovery, Jimmie fell and broke the weakened leg.

Leg in a Brace

"Since then he has been getting along quite well," his father said today, "and he could even ride his bicycle a little."

But the leg was still in a short cast, and Jimmie walked with Canadian crutches.

Tuesday, at about 4:15 p.m., Jimmie left the house with a handful of baseball trading cards for a swap session with his friends.

Again he fell, and again his left leg was broken.

Upholds County Court

No Pay for Broker Who Didn't Do Job

The seller of a home doesn't have to pay a real estate broker who has not performed obligations of an oral contract, the state supreme court has ruled.

The high court upheld a ruling by County Judge Stanley A. Staidl in a suit by Neenah real estate broker Louis H. Haase to obtain $1,000 he claimed J. S. Ramsay, Sr., 421 E. Byrd street, owed him as commission for selling a house in the town of Menasha in 1957.

Ramsay built the house in the spring of 1957 and its sale price was $24,500. He was contacted by a buyer and referred him to Haase. There was no written agreement, but the court indicated that Haase agreed verbally with Ramsay to arrange financing.

Ramsay signed a $1,000 note with Amortized Mortgage association, which arranged part of the buyer's financing, to pay for Haase's services. However, the court noted, Haase made no further attempt to arrange financing. The buyer proved to be hopelessly in debt and Ramsay had to sue to regain title to the home, the court indicated.

Former Convict Gets Mayor Seat

Bloomer — A 50-year-old former prison inmate pardoned by Gov. Gaylord Nelson to run for Mayor of Bloomer unseated the incumbent in Tuesday's election.

Norman Ludwigson, whose eligibility was cleared by Nelson March 2, defeated Mayor John O. Johnson 630-583.

Ludwigson, the father of five, had to run as a write-in candidate after receiving executive clemency. The Bloomer city clerk's office refused to file his nomination papers on the ground he lost his civil rights when sentenced to state prison 30 years ago.

Ludwigson, a Chippewa county board member, appealed the ruling and then received clemency from the governor, erasing any question of his eligibility to run for public office.

The mayor-elect served 10 months and 10 days of a year sentence to state prison for breaking and entering in the night time in 1930.

Denies Bad Conduct

Eugene J. Noack, 37, of 1411 W. Commercial street, Tuesday in municipal court denied creating a disturbance and using foul language at his wife's home, 621 W. Fourth street, Sunday. He posted $25 bond for trial Aug. 30 and was ordered to keep the peace.

Tuesday in New London after a long illness. She was hospitalized Friday after she broke her hip in a fall at her home.

Friends may call at the Burdick funeral home, Black Creek, from 2 p.m. Thursday to 11 a.m. Friday. She is survived by a son, Herbert, with whom she lived, and a sister, Mrs. Anna Trettien, Appleton.

Miss Elizabeth Metz

Miss Elizabeth Metz, 80, formerly of Appleton, died Tuesday morning at St. Mary convent, Milwaukee.

She was born in St. John, Wis., and lived in Appleton, where she was a tailor, before moving to Milwaukee 35 years ago.

Funeral services will be at 8:15 a.m. Thursday at St. Mary convent, Milwaukee. Committal service will be at St. Joseph cemetery chapel, Appleton.

Surviving are one brother, Michael Metz, Fredonia, Wis., and one sister, Mrs. Harry Soper, Milwaukee.

Henry S. Stoffels

Henry S. Stoffels, formerly of Appleton, died unexpectedly in Chicago March 26.

He was born in Appleton and was associated with Kamps and Stoffels jewelry and music store before moving away about 35 years ago. Funeral services were in Chicago, with cremation in Bohemian National cemetery there.

The widow, one son and one daughter, all in Chicago, survive.

Wirtz Funeral

Funeral services were conducted at Juneau Tuesday for Frank Wirtz, Sr., 81, who died at Juneau. He was the operator of the Sherwood elevator and other businesses in Sherwood about 40 years ago. Burial was in Sacred Heart cemetery, Sherwood. He was survived by three daughters, seven grandchildren and a sister.

Man Denies Creating Disturbance at Home

Chester A. Wolfram, 39, of 117 S. State street, Tuesday in municipal court denied he created a disturbance at his wife's home at Stames drive Friday evening and posted $23.95 bond for court appearance Oct. 28.

Wolfram was jailed after Undersheriff Donald Heinrich and Sheriff's Lt. Jack Zuelzke were called to the Stames drive home.

Judge Oscar J. Schmieg told Wolfram that if he kept the peace and refrained from going to his wife's home the charge would be dismissed. The court also ordered Mrs. Wolfram to cease calling her husband.

Your Money's Worth

Money Is Easier, Not Yet Cheaper

BY SYLVIA PORTER

"Money is easier" in our country. This is an indisputable fact being flashed by the nation's basic money markets today. What does this mean to you? How can this technical sentence be translated in terms of direct significance to you as a homebuyer or homebuilder, a family buying a big-ticket item on the installment plan, a small businessman seeking cash to finance current operations, modernize, expand?

"Money is easier" means that if you're trying to borrow cash and you have an acceptable credit rating, the odds are much better today that you'll get the loan than they were 90 days ago.

As yet, though, "money is easier" does not mean you're likely to get that loan at a lower cost than 90 days ago.

For the vast majority, "money is easier" means easier to get, not easier to pay for," was the way one Wall Street professional put it — thereby dramatizing a vital distinction between what easier money means to such glant borrowers as the federal government and what it means to America's millions of consumers and businessmen.

The dramatic extent and rapidity of the turnabout in the money markets since January is the most spectacular financial story of 1960 to date. What has happened and story of immense economic and political importance as well as of immediate dollars-and-cents value to anyone planning to borrow money in this period.

Instead of being brutally hard to get and more costly than ever, credit is becoming progressively more available and for some groups, less expensive. Behind this reversal lies the fact that the economy is not on the upswing anticipated for this point in 1960.

Less Demand, More Supply

Reflecting this slowing in economic activity, neither corporations nor individuals are borrowing as much money as expected to finance present and projected operations. As a result of the slowing of activity and its concern about the possible implications of the disappointments, the federal reserve system has shifted back from its policy of aggressive restraint of credit and is permitting more money to flow into the banking system to become more available for loans. The combination of less demand for credit and greater supply of credit has brought about a violent upheaval in the money markets in a matter of weeks.

Money is now considerably more available for all sizes of borrowers and for all types of loans—and this is the direct and most important meaning to you at this date of the "easing."

But so far, money is cheaper only for those borrowing via the securities markets. It's dramatically cheaper for the U.S. treasury, for instance; the treasury is now selling its 91-day IOUs at less than 3 per cent against close to 5 per cent in January. It's much cheaper for states and cities issuing new bonds to get cash; top-rated states are paying 3½ per cent on bonds now against close to 4 per cent in January.

Try Again

It is not—as yet—cheaper for the homebuyer or homebuilder. Most mortgages still cost more than 6 per cent. Nor is it cheaper for most businessmen borrowing from banks. Nor is it cheaper for individuals buying on time.

On installment loans, rates are at peaks and likely to stick at peaks unless we sink into a recession.

If business doesn't perk up this spring—and the economy is taking the crucial test right now—then "easier" will mean cheaper as well as more available loans. Meanwhile, if you've tried and been turned down for a loan, try again.

BY KATHY REARDON
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

In Pakistan, college educated women usually choose one of two jobs after graduation: the field of medicine or teaching. Miss Vilma Nathaniel, who is on a 6-month tour of the United States, chose the latter.

Miss Nathaniel of Lahore, Pakistan, came to the United States on Dec. 23 on a scholarship in the field of Christian higher education under the sponsorship of the Commission on Ecumenical Mission and Relations of the United Presbyterian church in the United States. She is traveling to campuses and student conferences under joint auspices of the commission and the Commission on World Mission of the National Student Christian Federation.

Observes Relation

The dark-haired visitor is observing the relationship between Christianity and education in the United States. She has been in the New England states, the south and midwest. She left today for a 6-day stay in St. Paul, and after a few more visits, she will depart for Texas and the west. She hopes to attend the geographer's meeting in Dallas the end of the month.

Miss Nathaniel is on the faculty of Kinnaird College for Women in Lahore as a lecturer in geography. She has taught for five years in the college of 340 students. "Most girls who have the opportunity to attend college will do so," she remarked, "however, only primary education is compulsory."

The Pakistani noted that schools in her country are geared to the British system, without the semester break and with 2-year courses. Kinnaird college is a Christian school affiliated with the university and is aided by missionary societies, government and churches. All colleges are connected to the university which grants the degrees. The smaller schools merely are teaching posts and most conform to the standards set down by the university.

Teaching Family Miss Nathaniel's home town is Quetta, about 800 miles from the college town. Her two sisters are teachers, as is her mother. Her father is rather lost in a family of four teachers; he is an accountant.

The student movement in Pakistan is of prime interest to the young teacher and she has become quite involved in it. The movement is an interdenominational organization with the purpose of educating students in religion. Miss Nathaniel served four years as general secretary as well as chairman for one year of the movement. In 1958 she participated in the Conference on the Life and Mission of the Church sponsored by the World's Student Christian federation in Rangoon, Burma.

At the 18th Ecumenical Student conference on the Christian World Mission held Dec. 27 through Jan. 2 in Athens, Ohio, Miss Nathaniel served as conference co-chairman. Her interest in the movement has taken her to Europe, India and Ceylon. She hopes to visit southeastern Asia on the way back to Pakistan.

"The American people are thinking a lot, but you really need more people to do some serious thinking about your own country plus the outside world," Miss Nathaniel observed. She is traveling so fast she doesn't have time to really know the people or understand them, she said.

Enjoys Cold

The young woman thinks our houses are too warm.

"You get so sick of the warm weather," she said from her perch on the middle of the bed at Colman hall in front of an open window. "I love the greenness of spring but I enjoy the cold and snow."

While on her tour she has attended student conferences, visited geography departments and met with student groups. She noted and envied the visual aids and books the United States schools have at their command but was astonished at prices. She hopes she will be able to purchase them for less someplace in Europe.

Because of the weather in Pakistan the women are able to wear the sari all year long. When she visits other countries she will dress in her native costume because it is more comfortable.

In Pakistan the young brides wear red — quite a switch from our traditional white.

Miss Nathaniel last night addressed students at a dinner meeting at the First Congregational church. She stayed in Colman hall during her stopover in Appleton.

Miss Vilma Nathaniel Appeared in her native dress, the sari, Tuesday evening at a fellowship dinner.

Explain Situation To Friends

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: After 10 years of marriage I am expecting my first baby. For the past several months I have busy making baby things and in addition my friends have given me a stork shower, so I have everything I can possibly use when the baby arrives, and for some time to come. I have heard indirectly that several of mother's friends are planning another shower for me. I don't wish to appear ungrateful but I don't need anything and would rather they didn't give me this party. Could I possibly make this wish known without hurting their feelings, or shall I say nothing and then give the baby things to a charitable organization?

Answer: If you really have more than you need, the only thing to do is to explain yourself, or have your mother explain, that you appreciate their thought of you but that it would be unfair to have them give you things you really don't need. To give these presents away after they have been given to you, would very definitely hurt their feelings.

Father First Choice

Dear Mrs. Post: My parents are divorced and my mother is remarried. I like my stepfather very much but I also love my father. My problem is, who should give me away at my forthcoming marriage. My stepfather has raised me since I was 8 and I don't want to hurt him, but my father is still my father and I think it would make him very unhappy not to be given this privilege. My mother thinks my stepfather should be the one to give me away. Will you please advise me as this has turned into a very touchy subject at home.

Answer: Very definitely your own father takes precedence over your stepfather and he should be the one to give you away. Not to have him do so would be to publicly disown him.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-10, entitled, "Wedding Invitations and Announcements," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E.P., care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 99, Station C, New York 19, N.Y.

Miss Vilma Nathaniel, a geography instructor at Kinnaird College for Women in Lahore, Pakistan, was guest speaker at a dinner sponsored by the United Student fellowship at First Congregational church Tuesday evening. From left are Ann Doemland, president, Miss Nathaniel and Marilyn Mundy, state recording secretary.

Your Problems

Since Al's Brainy, Not Sage, Girl Needs Man Who Acts Age

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have a standing date every Friday night with a fellow I will call Al — short for Alcoholic. He's fine until he has that third drink — then he gets smashed out of his mind.

I have to drive him to his apartment Ann Landers and turn the key in the lock. Then I drive myself home. His car has an automatic shift which I'm not used to. My folks don't like his car sitting in front of our house all night because of the neighbors.

"The thing that attracted me to Al is his brain. He's brilliant and everyone respects him for it. I never had a chance to go to college and have regretted it always. I thought I could learn something from Al but he refuses to talk about anything sensible or serious."

Do you think this relationship has a chance of going any place?—Hungry for Knowledge

Dear Hungry: Yeah—into a ditch.

Al may have a wonderful brain, but what good is it—pickled in alcohol?

The only thing you'll learn from him is how to master an automatic shift. It's not worth it. Send him to A.A. and tell him goodbye.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: We recently moved to this city. There are only two single dwellings in our block; the rest are all apartment houses. We live in an apartment. Since we have no driveway or garage facilities we park our car on the street, as close to our apartment as possible.

Yesterday a home-owner who has a driveway and a garage told me not to park in front of her home. "This space," she said, "is reserved for our guests." Does she have the right to make such a request?—From Missouri

Dear From: You have as much right as she to park in front of her home. She may own the house, but she doesn't own the street.

der our roof—or permit her to see him and make a mess of her life? —Basket Cases

Dear Cases: She may make a mess of her life no matter which course you follow, but if you forbid her to see Jim, she's likely to make a more complete mess—and sooner. She'd probably meet him behind your back (which is exciting because it's forbidden), then wind up running off with him because you "forced her into it."

My advice is to stop knocking the boy. Find something to admire if it's only that he has an eye, on either side of his nose.

The less you attack Jim the less inclined she will be to defend him and prove you wrong.

Are you going steady? Making marriage plans? If so, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Before You Marry—Is It Love Or Sex?" enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

This Easy Play Often Overlooked

A certain kind of fine play is practically always made by an expert but very seldom by the average player. This is strange, because it's a very simple play.

West opens the king of hearts and continues with the ace. South must, of course, ruff the second heart. We can tell by the trump South uses whether he is a sheep or a goat.

The average player ruffs with his lowest trump, the seven. As the cards lie, this mistake is fatal.

South can get to dummy only once, with a diamond. He leads the jack of spades from dummy, and East plays low. Dummy is in position to lead another trump, but East plays low again.

Declarer is forced to win the second round of trumps in his own hand, and cannot get back to dummy for another finesse. East will eventually take the setting trick with his king of spades.

Must Ruff High
The expert knows he must ruff high at second trick. This cannot cost anything, since all of the trumps except the ace are equals. The expert makes this play automatically since it cannot lose but may gain.

Our hero leads a diamond to dummy and returns the eight of spades for a finesse. The eight holds the trick, since South can play the seven under it. Declarer next leads the jack of spades from dummy, staying under this with the ten. He is still in dummy and can take a third trump finesse to complete the job of picking up East's trumps.

Now that this type of play has been brought to your attention, keep your eyes open for it. Instead of rushing to ruff as cheaply as possible, Brickbats or Bouquets?

Many women continue to complain about the wearing qualities of nylon stockings. But perhaps they would not be so fractious had they lived in the pre-nylon age.

In those days, a woman wore either silk or cotton lisle stockings. Silk stockings ran like mad and lisles wore in holes. Both bugged around the knees and ankles. Compared to nylons, their performance was inferior in every respect.

Just think how nylons lie smooth on the leg and veil it with flattery. And with the introduction of fashion colors, think what a fillip nylons offer a costume. New shades — bone, apricot, pink, green and gray — are keyed to both costume and shoe colors. Presently, the favored color alliance is between the shoe and the stocking.

As for the serviceability of nylons, it will prove more than satisfactory when you take these precautions:

Buy the size that exactly fits your foot, and is proportioned to your height and garter adjustment.

Wear a weight suited to your activities. To expect evening sheers to stand up to the strain of daytime activities is irrational.

Wash nylons after each wearing, press out drips with a towel, and hang away from heat. Be on the alert for the run-makers — finger rings, jagged toenails and wrinkled shoe linings.

You do and you'll toss nylons bouquets, instead of brickbats.

Daily Question
Partner opens with two spades (forcing to game) and the next player passes. You hold: S—K 5 4 2, H—7 6 5 2, D—10 9 5, C—8 3. What do you say?

Answer: Bid two notrump. You expect to show the spade support later, but must first show your weakness by the negative response.

Live Ducks, Chicks Not Suitable Easter Gifts

BY ANGELO PATRI

Easter has become a day for gifts to children. First, of course, is the new Easter suit, symbolic of springtime and the newness it brings to all growing things. Then the hosts of odds and ends children like—chocolate bunnies and Easter baskets full of goodies.

However, one gift that has become popular—which I, for one, wish had never been thought of—is the live creature, the wee duckling and chick.

These little things are appealing to old and young, but no understanding of this is cruelty.

The fond relative who buys a chick or a duckling for a runabout child because 'they are so cute,' does not think about the feelings of the creature at all. There can be but one end for the Easter chick and duckling; death. Easter should not be used for such an end. It marks the renewal of life, the conquest of death by life that is unending.

Please think twice about buying a live present for a child this Easter. Pass by the chick and the duckling and the puppy and the kitten where the small child is under consideration. Buy him a chocolate bunny, an Easter basket, artificial chicks, ducklings, bunnies, and so prevent a can feel pain, hunger, thirst and illness. To make toys of form of cruelty that shocks them for children who have thoughtful people.

SEAMS TO ME Questions, Answers

By Patricia Scott

Sewing, when it is done properly, can be so easy and great fun, too. Some of you are thrown for a loop if your paper pattern doesn't fit and others can't get good square corners. Pat Scott ners no matter what. However, most of your problems can be solved easily and make sewing a joy rather than a chore.

I always have trouble making a proper square corner. When I make a square neck the corners always look rounded. What am I doing wrong?

Everything, obviously. After you have sewn the facing to the dress, trim your seam almost to the stitching. You should have no trouble getting sharp, square corners in this way. (See illustration)

Must all curved edges be clipped every inch or so? A friend of mine who sews told me it is better to trim the seam real close and let it go at that. What do you say? Your friend should be drummed out of the sewing circle. It is absolutely necessary to clip on curved edges. Only then will you release the tension and tugging to allow your garment to mold and shape itself properly. Trimming seams very close doesn't take the place of clipping. In fact, a word of warning — NEVER trim your seams smaller than one-half inch on any part of the garment because if your seam ever splits you may find that it has frayed, and repairing it is impossible. Trim very close only where facings are attached. It is necessary to do it here so that you do not have too much bulk when facing is turned.

I am only 4 feet, 11 inches tall and have a lot of trouble with skirt lengths, especially full skirts. How should I shorten a paper pattern with a full skirt? Before you cut, fold up the excess length on the pattern. Of course, by doing this, you eliminate some of the fullness at the lower edge of the skirt but if you shorten it by folding the pattern at the middle you bring the fullness up higher, which will make you look wide and dumpy.

I am very flat chested and have extremely large hips. Since I make my own clothes, I am able to combine different patterns when I make a dress and would like to know what styles are flattering.

The first step would be to trim your hips down but if that doesn't work following certain rules will help. Since you didn't say whether your waist is tiny or thick I'll have to generalize a bit. If it's tiny, you can wear full skirts with petticoats. This always hides a multitude of sins. If your waist is on the thick side, avoid excess fullness at the waist and wear slightly flared skirts or pleated ones. Slim skirts are all right if they are not too tight. Too many women with large hips walk around with every lump and bump showing — even garters. The detail of your dress should be concentrated on the bodice. Button front shirtwaists, wide collars, bows, pockets, tucks, yokes with soft gathers are all good and keep the interest above the waist. (Copyright, 1960)

Italian Parsley Gives Extra Flavor Lots of good cooks like to use the smooth leaves of Italian parsley in cooking in preference to the curly-leaf variety because of the extra flavor the former is supposed to impart.

Pretty Party Table

The pretty Easter egg col- finishes with a curly crestors, which favorite ribbon-ette comes in, inspired this Easter table. Orchid, pink, baby chick yellow, spring sky
The bows glue onto circles of blue, the green of first sprouts —all these also suggest a maypole, and the centerpiece could trade the eggs for flowers and become a May Day party table.

streamers which lead from the three-tiered centerpiece to place settings, the ribbonet-te is curled. The curled ribbonette is the ribbed kind, which curls in such a fascinating way when it's pulled across the dull side of a knife blade. The curling ribbons in all the prettiest colors make a nest for the eggs on each centerpiece tier, and the top

Mrs. A. P. "I would like to room gets little sun and some-

a color scheme which would change my Duncan Phyfe sofa from rose patterned beige tapestry to a stripe, for the colors of new upholstery on two period chairs and for the draperies and rug?"

You really want to change the color scheme entirely, and of course there are too many good possibilities to list. But you might start with white or a handsome shade of gold-yellow for the walls to brighten them, and find a stripe for the sofa to go with the one you choose. A yellow and white stripe would be smart with either one, or you could use bright green and white of a stripe that seems to shade from one fresh color to another, to give you more colors to repeat.

We Take a Visit to Learn How Handicapped Spend Their Time

BY JEAN HAMMOND

Last week I saw a part of Appleton which isn't often visible. Just as the heart and brain remain inside the body, so certain parts of a city are not easily seen by everyone. But, as with the heart and brain, it's important to know about them. The handicapped are one of these invisible organs.

"How do they feel about it?" I asked the woman who teaches them crafts in their homes. "Are they bitter or resentful?"

"Most of them aren't," she answers. "They've grown used to their limitations and have learned to live with them. I'd say they're cheerful and dependable and eager to learn. And they're willing to try anything."

weeks. That's not so bad, is it?" Grace asks.

Difficult Work

"No, and the next one will probably go even faster. Grace used to do larger things," the teacher tells me, "but the knitting worsteds are heavy and she doesn't have the strength to work the machine."

We talk a few minutes longer, about knitting and dogs and Grace's sister's children. Then the girl painfully signs her name to a paper showing that the teacher has called on her.

Next we see a girl in her teens who was born with a severe deformity. She sits at a desk in a room bright with the reflection of sunlight shining on new snow.

Yellow roses climb on ruffled chintz curtains and a china pig with pink polka dots and a pink ribbon tied around its neck stands on her dresser.

"Cynthia has a good sense of design and color, my companion tells me. 'She's been decorating these little straw purses.'"

Three are finished and the teacher puts them aside to take with her.

"Now, Cynthia, I brought you this ladies' purse to do. What do you think would be nice on it?"

Something Important

Together they decide on a spray of lavender lilacs and white rosebuds and purple and yellow pansies. They plan the arrangement and the purse begins to look like a spring bouquet. Cynthia peeks shyly out of the corner of her eye and keeps her back toward me. Her teenage skirt and sweater and short curled hair give the impression of normality. But under this facade lives a human being who spends most of her young life alone, with none of the contacts which make the teen years a time of fun and excitement and discovery.

Instead, Cynthia spends her time with artificial flowers and mosaics. And most important, with loving parents. Her work is her way of being a productive human being. The selling of it is her way of knowing that what she does is important and appreciated by someone. Cynthia

Our next stop is at the home of a former cabinet maker who is now a paraplegic. He's a thin man with hollows in his cheeks and glasses perched on his nose. The upper part of his body is strong and muscular for it serves him as both arms and legs.

Blooming Violets

The trim white house in which he lives faces east and the front windows are a blooming garden of violets. A can of baby powder lies on the sofa and the floor is littered with dolls and cars and other implements of childhood.

"Mother's putting our little granddaughter to bed," he explains, smiling.

The teacher shows him a cane bottom chair which someone wants refinished. The voice of Earl Gillespie and the Braves' ball game serve as background to their conversation.

Next we see a middle aged arthritic who sits in a wheel chair in her front window and with stiff fingers knits white baby sweaters trimmed with delicate pink rosebuds. She is cordial and charming and tells how worried she was that her teen aged son might choose not to take a college preparatory course in high school and that he has finally decided to do so.

Making a Towel

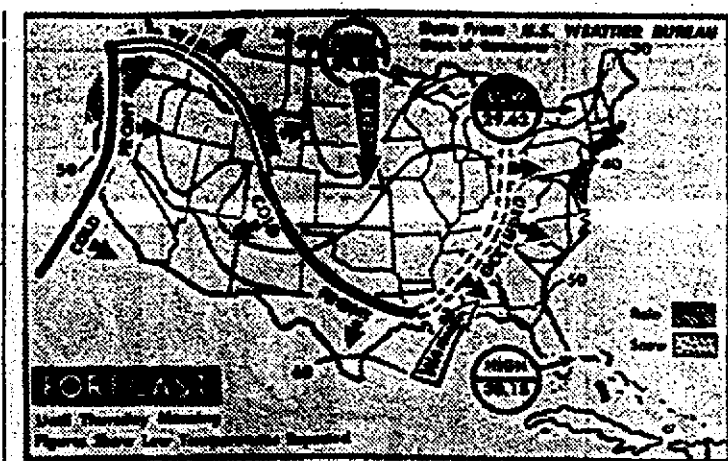

Then there is Joanie, an intelligent, brown-haired, brown-eyed girl who, in spite of cerebral palsy, managed to graduate from high school five years ago. She is well groomed and wears a bracelet on her left wrist. With much difficulty—but alone—she walks to the room where she is making a pink linen towel on a loom.

Last of all we call on a woman who lies with paralyzed legs on a day bed in the living room. A friend is working with a length of wire, devising a contraption with which, by flicking a switch, she can turn on the light and trip an alarm clock in her daughter's room.

"It's so hard for her to wake the girl at night," explains the woman's sister.

"I have thirty pencils finished," she tells her teacher. The woman shows me the little laughing clown heads with glittering net ruffs she has attached to the pencil tops with a bit of red pipe cleaner.

"Now you've seen them," the teacher tells me as we leave. "Some of the handicapped. There are many others, each with his own particular problems. Everyone does what he can, according to his own ability." She rubs her forehead in a gesture of weariness. "They could give up, you know. It's easy to have courage for an hour. Or a day. But my friends must be strong year after year. And they manage it," she says. "Somehow, they manage it." This is Appleton. It's where we live.

It Will be Colder Tonight in the central and northern plains while warmer weather is expected in the Gulf states, lower Mississippi valley and the Ohio valley. Rain is forecast along the coast in Oregon and Washington.

Women, Children Get Most of Easter Dollar

BY JACK LEFLER

New York — Most of the family's Easter spending is for the kids.

That's what an Associated Press survey of merchants in 17 major cities indicated Tuesday.

The days when the whole family turned out Easter morning with new duds from head to toe are gone, merchants said. Families now tend to buy their clothing throughout the year as the need arises.

"There was a time when Easter was a dress-up must for everybody, but that is not true now," said James O'Brien, vice president of Carson Pirie Scott and company of Chicago. "The idea now is dress up the kids."

Hobby Sales Increase
"Women and children are getting the most from the Easter spending dollar," said a Columbus, Ohio, store executive. "There seems to be an increase in sales of hobby goods but otherwise there are no off-beat developments."

"Ladies' coats are pretty good but dresses and men's suits are not so hot," said a Cleveland retailer. "Dad is buying much more clothes during the rest of the year than ever before but not the traditional suit he used to buy."

But merchants are making a big effort to get Dad to doll up more on Easter. They're promoting light type fabrics and a wide range of colors.

"There are new fashions and trends," a Denver merchant said, "and Mom wants him up-to-date with the rest of the family — and the rest of the block."

What's selling for the Easter parades?

Walking Suits Star

Women will be wearing finger-tip jacketed "walking suits," polka dot and white dresses and hats blooming with flowers.

Little girls will be turned out in checked coats and suits and frothy organdy and nylon and silk organzas in pastel "Easter egg" tones.

Young men and boys are going in for gold, black or navy wool blazers with contrasting "continental" style slacks.

Merchants in most cities report that buying is picking up after a slow start because of terrible weather. Many expect to equal or surpass the record volume of the 1959 Easter season.

The later Easter is a big factor in their optimistic outlook.

But in other areas, storekeepers said the prolonged period of cold and snow has taken a permanent toll and sales won't come back to 1959 levels.

Snow, Cold Only Fare in Fox Cities

Clearing weather is pushing into the state from the west, the weatherman says. The Fox Cities have no sign of it. The only weather here is snow and cold.

Last year on this day there was a maximum of 51. The next day a year ago the maximum was 61. The weatherman, however, says temperatures at present are normal to three degrees below normal. This is the way weather will remain for the next five days, he said.

The temperature hit 100 for the first time this year Tuesday. This happened at Blythe, Calif., and Yuma, Ariz. Our high of 42 Tuesday was 58 degrees below that mark.

K of C Plans Annual Supper

The Knights of Columbus annual lenten potluck supper will be held at 6:30 p.m. Saturday at the club.

The committee in charge includes Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Burch, Mr. and Mrs. Burt Tusler, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Willis, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Heegeman and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gerrits.

Special Brand Kept Just for Pet Dog

San Diego, Calif. — An aircraft company executive told his wife to give their sick dog a jigger of whisky when she couldn't reach the veterinarian. The vet called her later, and she told him the dog was better and she didn't need him.

5 Neatest Correct Entries Will Win Yo-Yos as Prizes

BY CAPPY DICK

Can you find one shoe in the adjoining picture that is different from all the others?

If you can, you may become the winner of my newest contest prize—a yo-yo. This is the time of year when yo-yo spinning is a popular sport.

First, study the picture of the 10 shoes and discover the one that is different from all the others. The difference is in plain view, so you can hardly fail to spot it if you study all the shoes carefully.

Next, use your paints, crayons or ordinary pencil to color that one shoe. This will show the contest judges that you found it.

Thirdly, clip out the contest picture, paste it on a sheet of paper or a postal card and beneath it print your name, age and address. If you wish to do so, you may use your paints, crayons or pencil to decorate your entry. Careful!

Finally, address your contest entry to Cappy Dick at the Appleton Post-Crescent and mail it before Friday midnight.

If your contest entry is correct, and is judged to be one of the five most neatly prepared, you will win a yo-yo. (Copyright, 1960)

Pay Hikes Granted to Grand Chute Officials

Salary hikes for town board members, the town clerk and assessor were approved at the 110th annual meeting of the town of Grand Chute Tuesday evening.

Town officers had been receiving a straight $8 a day for town work and $8 a meeting. They now will receive $8 a meeting and $10 a day for other work.

The work day raise was approved to keep town officials on a par with common labor wages. These had been $1.25 an hour. Common labor wages, however, were later raised to $1.50 an hour.

Full-time Job
The town clerk's wages were set at the same rates as town officials.

John Timmers, former board member, suggested the town hire a full-time clerk. No action was taken.

Salary Raised
Salary of the town assessor was raised from $1,200 annually to $1,400. Salaries of the town treasurer and town constable remained at $1,000 and $1,200 respectively.

Hourly pay for drivers of snowplows and gravel trucks remained at $1.50 an hour.

John Stevens, town assessor, told the gathering the state board of health had been contacted regarding pollution of Mud creek.

Cutting Corners
Businesses and homes are throwing sewage into the creek, he said. Industry has been treating its refuse, he added, and discoloration comes from household detergents.

Town of Dale

Town of Dale voters Tuesday approved a road reconstruction program calling for grading, widening and clearing three miles of town roads in various parts of the towns.

Also approved was blacktopping of all roads where such work is needed, purchase of signs for marking streets and roads and repairing the roof of the town hall.

No specific amount was earmarked for the work.
One 2-mile section of road a mile south of Medina running in an east-west direction will be widened, graded and cleared of roadside brush. The other section of road to receive similar improvement is an east-west artery of one mile about 2 1/2 miles north of Dale.

The extent of blacktop repair depends upon damage reported during the spring breakup. Officials indicated the breakup may be more extensive this year than in recent springs.

The street marking program will get underway later in the year. It is part of a county program to have all roads and streets in rural areas marked, named and numbered.

Town of Seymour

Road repair work, the extent of which remains unknown at the moment, was the main topic of discussion at the town of Seymour meeting Tuesday.

Voters agreed to repair these roads in need of work as a result of the spring breakup.

Town of Freedom

Big Falls First Precinct in for Spring Ballot

The first precinct to report on Tuesday's election was the village of Big Falls in Waupaca county, making its call at 6:05 p.m.

Close on its heels was the town of St. Lawrence, Waupaca county; the town of Liberty, Outagamie county, and the town of Charlestown, Calumet county.

The earliest returns in the presidential preference primary got the race off in neck-and-neck fashion, with Humphrey having a slight edge.

The four first precincts gave Humphrey 211, Kennedy 206 and Nixon 202 with the Calumet county precinct bolstering the Kennedy column with 138 votes.

The port facilities constitutional amendment referendum results started out with the two precincts leaning toward the negative side, 252 to 236.

Harrison was the last Calumet county precinct to report, and New London wards were the last precincts reported in Oshkosh and Outagamie counties.

plan to blacktop three miles of the Center Valley road between County Trunk C and Highway 55. Money will come from the general fund.

It also was decided that next year's meeting will be held in the fire house rather than at the high school.

Town of Deer Creek

Town of Deer Creek residents Tuesday voted for a reassessment of the township. The town will ask a state representative to come in and complete the project.

Voters also heard Carl Dy, Shawano, a representative of a bituminous mix manufacturer, explain the advantages of bituminous pavement. The discussion was in anticipation of the township road improvement program, although no details for such a project were discussed.

Town of Black Creek

Two miles of road will be blacktopped this year, voters at the town meeting decided Tuesday.

The program will be the same one carried on last year.

Town of Ellington

Three or four miles of roads will be resurfaced in the township this year, it was decided at the town meeting Tuesday.

Some grading and other improvement work will be scheduled, depending upon the extent of the spring breakup.

Town of Center

Town of Center voters Tuesday agreed to construct a new bridge over a town road west of Twelve Corners.

About four miles of road will be graded, it was decided, but the bulk of road work will have to wait until it is determined to what extent the spring breakup will have on construction funds.

Town of Maple Creek

The annual town meeting approved a budget of $6,000 Tuesday. The budget breaks down with $3,500 going for road work, $2,000 for town expenses and $1,500 for relief of the poor.

The treasurer reported $58,144 in receipts and $50,328 in disbursements and $691 in outstanding orders, to leave a balance of $7,124.

Town of Bovina

The joint Shioc-ton-town of Bovina cemetery committee was given complete authority to maintain and improve the cemetery at the annual town of Bovina meeting Tuesday.

The electors held the tax rate at 8 mills, to bring in an estimated $9,000 in taxes.

Town of Maine

Electors in the town of Maine at their annual meeting Tuesday approved about $10,000 in road improvements.

The board was authorized to blacktop two miles of the Newland road for an estimated cost of $8,000 and to reconstruct 14 miles of the Taubel road for an estimated $2,000.

Town of Buchanan

Approximately 75 residents of the town of Buchanan Tuesday approved at the town meeting purchase of name signs to be erected on town roads.

The roads will be named and the signs erected in about two months, according to Clarence Wundrow, town clerk. They will be ordered from Waupun state prison.

In other action, the voters approved purchase of an adding machine for the town clerk and a front-mounted pump for the township fire engine.

Town of Cicero

No action was taken on the Nichols sewage system at a meeting of the town of Cicero Tuesday. The issue was postponed pending an engineer's report.

The voters voted to oil all town roads.

On Going to the Pen

BY CHARLES M. CROWE

"Better is a handful with quietness, than both the hands full with travail and vexation of spirit."
— Ecclesiastes 4:6

The story of Salmon P. Chase and his daughter Kate is a tragic example of the destructive power of ruthless ambition. Chase was successively United States senator, governor of Ohio, Lincoln's secretary of the treasury; and Donna Breaker, Bonnie Kroug and James Allen, Winneconne; Roy Thompson and Karen Last, Omro, and Barbara Boyd, David Fox, High school; Robert Knopff, and Nancy Wertsch, Oshkosh; Kaukauna.

ings which destroyed his conscience and embittered his life. His daughter Kate shared her father's ambition. She married for money to help the cause, then was divorced after scandals wrecked her life. Once used to having everything she wanted, Kate was finally reduced to selling produce in the city where she had been the social leader. The biographers of the Chase family take the title of their book, "So Fell the Angels," from the couplet of Shakespeare: "I charge thee, fling away ambition; by that sin fell the angels." And by that sin fall many otherwise good and able people. It is tragic when men and women allow their desire for place or power or money to destroy their souls and their peace of mind. God surely wants us to use our abilities to the full. But we dishonor God when we allow our uncontrolled ambitions to undermine our char-

Students Win First Places In Festivals

Appleton, Xavier Soloists Eligible For State Contest

Eight Appleton High school soloists, one Xavier High school soloist and eight AHS ensembles will be eligible to compete in the state music festival in Madison next month. They were among the Appleton students who won first division ratings in festivals in Green Bay and Shawano Saturday.

AHS competed in the Fox River Valley festival at Green Bay, and Xavier and St. Joseph schools, competed in the Wolf River festival at Shawano.

Two other soloists who won first but will not be eligible for state competition because their solos were not memorized are Mary Lawless, alto saxophone; and Howard Roelofs, French horn.

Flute Soloist Wins—Carlae Barth, Xavier High school, earned the right to attend the state festival by placing first in the class A flute solo competition at Shawano.

Ensemble groups that won first division ratings for Appleton High are Calvin Kluess and Jack Shievenbein, trumpet duet; Sandy Newbury and

AHS Seniors Join Organization During Induction Ceremony

Twenty-eight Appleton High school students were formally inducted into the National Honor society in the AHS auditorium Monday afternoon. This was the 33rd such group to be inducted at the high school.

Seniors were chosen to membership in the society because of their scholarship, leadership, character and service during their three high school years.

Inducted were Marcia Arnoldussen, Sharon Arts, Sharon Bauerlein, Alfred Bradford, Jr., Mary Captain, Barbara Casper, Rochelle Cohen, Jane Dillon, Joanne Gammelin, Sandra Greason, Janet Herzfeldt, Margaret Jacobi, Jon Keckonen, Calvin Kluess, Janice Kneip, Tom Liethen, Carl Malmstrom, Richard Natrop, Nea Lee Nissen, Barbara Notebaart, Bette Saiberlich, William Simon, John Taylor, Mary Urban, Susan Ward, Eleanor Wehrenberg, Kay Wilkinson and Nancy Wink.

Malmstrom Speaks

They were nominated by the faculty and by the 133 students of the senior class who ranked in the upper quarter of the class. Final selection was made by the faculty.

Homer Malmstrom, research physicist at Kimberly-Clark corporation, whose son Carl was one of those inducted, was the main speaker.

A feeling of anti-intellectualism and disrespect for scholars, Malmstrom said, is more pronounced in the early periods of one's education than in college and graduate study. He said scholarship is needed in all fields of work and in the wide range of work, there is a place for each person.

School Board Incumbents Reelected

Three Appleton board of education members, unopposed in Tuesday's election, were returned to office.

Of 14,389 votes cast in Appleton's 21 precincts and in the areas of the town of Grand Chute attached to Appleton for school purposes, John A. Schneider received 9,872; Mrs. Myrl N. Davis, 9,560, and board president Edward V. Krueger, 9,325.

City voters cast 9,589 votes for Schneider, 9,474 for Mrs. Davis and 9,251 for Krueger. Grand Chute gave Mrs. Da-

McMahon Guides Milwaukee to 11th Exhibition Victory

Checks Cincinnati in Relief, Drives Home Winning Run

Jacksonville, Fla. — The show belonged to Don McMahon Tuesday. He pitched the Milwaukee Braves to a 5-3 exhibition baseball victory over Cincinnati — aided by his own single that scored a run.

McMahon was sent into the game in the fifth inning, faced with a gloomy situation.

Three Cincinnati runners were on base and there was only one out. But McMahon, all the rest of the way, allowed only one hit and one walk.

Juan Pizarro started for the Braves and gave up three runs before McMahon came along with his excellent relief work.

Ends Streak

The victory gave Milwaukee an 11-9 record for the Grapefruit league stint and ended Cincinnati's winning string at four.

Cincinnati starter Jay Hook gave Milwaukee three runs, but it was the Reds' Orlando Pena who in the seventh released the two decisive runs for the Braves. McMahon's single scored Del Crandall, and Eddie Mathews added a triple.

Milwaukee scored twice in the initial inning when Bill Bruton, "Red," Schoendienst, and Mathews filled the bases with none out, and Henry Aaron swatted a single that scored the runs.

Pizarro's second inning for Milwaukee had Cincinnati scoring on a walk, a single, a hit batsman and a walk to Hook. In the third inning, Pizarro released a single and hit another batsman. In the fourth he emerged without damage after allowing two singles and a walk.

Bell Singles

Cincinnati's Gus Bell started off the fifth with a single and walks to Frank Robinson and Roy McMillan loaded the bases. McMahon came on and two Cincinnati runners scored when Logan missed a hop-ping hit from Billy Martin.

McMahon's "double" and a single by Mathews tied the score at 3-3 in the last of the fifth inning.

Warren Spahn was named Tuesday to his perennial assignment as opening day pitcher.

Spahn will face the Pittsburgh Pirates Tuesday in the Milwaukee County stadium. He has allowed only three earned runs in 27 innings of Grapefruit league competition.

Pick UW's Mohr On All-American Boxing Team

Madison — Charles Mohr was the only University of Wisconsin boxer named to the All-American team selected Tuesday by the National Intercollegiate Boxing Coaches association. Mohr competes at 165 pounds.

San Jose State placed two men on the first team, heavyweight Archie Milton and 147-pounder Charles Brown.

Other team members include Heihiti Shimbukuro (112), College of Idaho; Joe Elise (129), Nevada; Terry Smith (156), Sacramento State; Jerry Armstrong (119), Idaho State; Bob Cornwell (125), Washington State; and Fred Martin (139), California Poly.

Cousy Paces Celtics to Playoff Lead

Shakes Slump as Boston Defeats Hawks, 127-102

BY BOB GREEN

Boston — "Cousy's back. That's the story."

Boston's Bill Russell was talking about the great performance of teammate Bob Cousy, who led the Celtics to a vital 127-102 playoff victory the St. Louis Hawks Tuesday night.

The decision gave Boston a 3-2 edge in the best-of-7 series that shifts to St. Louis for the sixth game Thursday night. The seventh game, if necessary, will be in Boston Saturday afternoon.

Cousy was the key to the decision that gave the defending champions the whip hand in the playoffs. The long-time star had been in one of the worst slumps of his 10-year professional career. He had announced that if he didn't break out of the doldrums he would bench himself for the good of the team.

There was no need to.

Standing Ovation The Boston garden crowd of 13,909 gave him a standing ovation when he took a breather midway through the second quarter. By that time he had engineered a drive that broke the game open, giving Boston a 48-30 lead.

St. Louis was only one point back, 25-24, when the big push started. Cousy scored on one of his dazzling layups, worming his way past three defenders. Then he struck on a long, 1-hand push shot. Then he set up Tommy Heinsohn for another and Boston was in front to stay. Cousy wound up with 21 points and 10 assists.

"I wouldn't say Cousy was the difference," St. Louis Coach Ed Macauley said. "But he's the quarterback. When he's up, the team is up. He gave them the momentum and when a great club like that has momentum they're just hard to stop."

Cousy had to share a bit of the spotlight with Heinsohn, who pumped in 34 points for scoring honors.

"I thought Heinsohn played a fantastic game," Macauley said. "He's the most underrated player in the league."

NOTES and NOTIONS

Two physicians have received some newspaper attention because of their contention in a national health magazine that Little league baseball can prove harmful to youngsters. Dr. Thomas E. Shaffer, Columbus, Ohio, and Dr. John R. Reichert, Chicago, cited objections to the program in age-group 9-12 on emotional and physical grounds. They claim the competitive drive is often overstimulated, and too much emphasis is put on winning. Also, the doctors said the child "is particularly susceptible to dislocations of joints and to bone injuries" during this age period.

We sought the reactions to this thesis of three Appleton men who have spent a lot of years working with and observing youngsters in athletics. And, Dr. Ralph Landis, Bill Pickett and Mickey McGuire wholeheartedly endorse the LL (and similar supervised programs). Dr. Landis, team physician for AHS and Lawrence, says he "can't see" those objections to LL. He says that if youngsters aren't participating in an organized program, they'd be playing on their own and the chances for injury would perhaps increase rather than lessen. Dr. Landis regards emphasis on supervised athletics as much more desirable than a number of activities youngsters might and often do pursue on their own. "I've never seen anything out of line" in local LL or recreation programs, he maintains.

Pickett, director of the public school's physical education program, calls LL activity "a wonderful thing." He says there's nothing harmful in these programs that can't be corrected by such measures as shortening time periods or distances. Pickett also feels that the local supervision of these activities has been excellent. Despite charges, such as the two doctors made, no one has produced any concrete examples or figures to show that such competition can produce undesirable results, according to Pickett. He adds that a recent study shows that youngsters benefit from athletic programs in such respects as sociability, getting along with others and learning to accept decisions. His own experience bears this out. The Appleton school system currently doesn't provide any competitive (inter-school) athletics below the seventh grade. But, this policy is traceable to such problems as travel between widely-separated schools rather than a fear of athletics' harmful effects,

Packers Will Meet Colts In City Stadium This Fall

Arnold Palmer Favored in Masters Test

Venturi, Snead, Souchak Among Other Top Threats

BY WILL GRIMSLEY

Augusta, Ga. — Golf's grandest extravaganza, the Masters, opens here Thursday with a leather-tough young pro named Arnold Palmer the 6-1 favorite and strong support building up for ex-footballer Mike Souchak.

Palmer, the year's leading money winner with more than $26,000 in earnings, himself places the barrel-chested Souchak at the head of the half-dozen or so whom he regards as players to beat for the title.

"I figure the men who are tough on the tour will be toughest here," said the 30-year-old Ligonier, Pa., professional, winner in 1958 and loser by two strokes last year. "I have to go with fellows like Souchak, Ken Venturi, Dow Finsterwald and Gene Littler."

Bookmakers have a slightly differing and a more definite view of the outcome of the 4-day, 72-hole medal play over the Augusta National course.

They have made Palmer the solid favorite at 6-1, followed by Venturi, who blew the championship as an amateur in 1956, at 8-1.

Cary Middlecoff and 3-time winner Sam Snead are bracketed at 10-1. Then comes an out-of-shape Ben Hogan and Souchak, 12-1, and Finsterwald and South Africa's Gary Player, 15-1. Other prices range from 20-1 to 100-1.

Player, the young British Open champion, heads the strong foreign delegation which includes Canada cup individual winner, Stan Leonard of Canada, and leading players from Australia, Spain, Brazil and England.

No foreigner ever has won this event and neither has an amateur. Jackie Nicklaus, the blond, 20-year-old slugger from Columbus, Ohio, who holds the U.S. Amateur crown, and Deane Beman, the British amateur king from Bethesda, Maryland, head the simon-pure threat.

The weather ceased to be a factor. The 6,850-yard, par 72 course, drenched by a week of rains, was whipped Tuesday by strong, biting winds and warmed by a benign sun. The weather man promises clear, cool weather — temperature in the low 70s — for the rest of the week, but indications are the course still will play the heaviest it has in history.

73 Report for MU Football Drills

Milwaukee — Seventy-three candidates reported Tuesday as Marquette university opened its spring football drills.

Coach "Liz" Blackburn divided the squad into units for the first of some 20 practice sessions.

Three more players were expected to report today — tackle Terry Mitchell — and backs Dennis Dorsch and Rod Austen. Veteran halfback Dick Timmer, center Paul Senn and halfback Jim Brady were missing.

Giants Get Dale Long From Cubs in Effort To Bolster Pinch Hitting

A's Swap Grim to Cleveland for Kiely; Skinner's Homer Snaps Buc Loss String

By the Associated Press

The San Francisco Giants, steeped in front-line talent, but weak on the bench, are doing their best to shore up their shortcomings.

Short on pinch hitters, the Giants Tuesday bolstered week for the Giants and the fifth player transaction completed by major league clubs in the last nine days as activity reached a peak with opening day six days away for the National league and less than two weeks off for the American.

Giants Bow

The Giants, beaten by St. Louis, 9-5, Tuesday as their exhibition record dropped to 10-11, also strengthened their bench with the trade that brought Jim Marshall from the Boston Red Sox.

Long, a left-handed hitting first baseman hit .236 for the Cubs last season with 14 home runs and 37 RBIs in 110 games. Marshall, for whom the Giants gave up pitcher Al Worthington, compiled a .252 mark in 108 games during the 1959 campaign while hitting 11 homers and accounting for 40 RBIs.

In another trade Tuesday, the Kansas City A's swapped pitcher Bob Grim to Cleveland for relief specialist Leo Kiely.

The A's boosted their spring record to 13-10 with a 13-5 victory over Washington and the Indians defeated the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers, 8-4.

In other games, New York drubbed the Chicago White Sox, 9-3; Detroit clubbed Baltimore, 14-4; Pittsburgh edged Philadelphia, 7-5; Boston beat the Chicago Cubs, 12-9; and Milwaukee turned back Cincinnati, 5-3, in a night game.

Spencer Homers

Daryl Spencer plagued his former Giant teammates, homering in the ninth inning for the Cards to break a 4-4 tie and ignite a 5-run rally. Ray Herbert became the first Kansas City pitcher to hurl nine innings and also smacked a grand slam homer in the A's 13-hit attack against the Senators.

Vic Power and rookie Walt Bond each drove in two runs in the sixth inning as the Indians came from behind to overhaul the Dodgers by chasing World Series pitching hero Larry Sherry.

The Yanks broke it open in the first inning with a 4-run

UW Football Drills Open

Eight Lettermen Are Among 105 Grid Candidates

Madison — Only eight lettermen among the 105 candidates reporting for football drills were on hand Tuesday as Coach Milt Bruhn opened spring practice for his University of Wisconsin team.

There were only two starters from last fall's eleven—Hank Derleth at end and Ron Perkins at guard—back for another year. Wisconsin had a 7-2 season before losing to Washington in the Rose Bowl. Jim Bakken, the No. 2 quarterback and leading punter in the Big Ten conference last season, is passing spring drills to try for a spot on the baseball team. Tom Wiesner is the only other backfield letterman available.

Other lettermen out for the drills are linemen Brian Moore, Terry Huxhold, Gerry Kulcinski, Don Schade and John Gotta. Bruhn said the material available falls short of the 23 lettermen he had to mold his title outfit last fall. Then he had a veteran for every position on the starting eleven and an even dozen left to power the second and third units.

AFL Waiting for Justice Department

Pro League Will Take Action of Its Own if No Probe Is Ordered

Washington — Joe Foss said today the American Football league plans to take action on its own if the justice department decides not to investigate operations of the rival National league.

He made the statement to newsmen following a 30-minute chat with Vice President Richard M. Nixon at which,

A's to Start Two Rookies In the Infield

Lou Klimchok, Ken Hamlin Will Get Chance

West Palm Beach, Fla. — Unless the Kansas City Athletics pick up infield reinforcements in a trade, they'll open the American league baseball season with rookies at third base and shortstop.

General Manager Parke Carroll said Tuesday there's little chance of the A's making such a trade.

"Look at our club right now," said Carroll. "Our outfield is good enough for a contender. Our catching is the best we've ever had and our pitching looks better."

"Now everyone is saying 'if we just had one more guy. Well maybe sometimes we get too greedy.'"

Ken Hamlin, who hit a weak 259 but starred in the field for Columbus in triple-A ball last season, is slated for shortstop. The trouble is that Hamlin has failed miserably in spring training as a fielder.

Lou Klimchok, the rookie at third base, was a great minor league hitter and in a 17-game trial with the A's last season, he drove in 13 runs. He's being paid to hit and he is, at best, merely adequate at the field. So, if the A's keep Klimchok at third, it follows that the shortstop must be exceptionally good with a glove.

Jay Fullmer Meets Kerwin In Ballroom

Miami Beach, Fla. — A hotel ballroom will be the lavish setting of a 10-round fight tonight between Jay Fullmer, brother of middleweight champion Gene, and Gale Kerwin.

Kerwin, who fights out of Valley Stream, N. Y., is billed as welterweight champion of Canada. Both are in the lighter brackets of the welterweight class and probably will go in at about 140 pounds for their match to be nationally televised (ABC) at 9 (CST).

Fullmer, 23, has won 19 of 24 fights, including seven by knockout. Kerwin, 24, was victorious in 28 of 38 ring appearances.

Richardson Is Rated Month's Top Fighter

Magazine Promotes Paret; Thompson in Welter Ranks

New York — Dick Richardson of Wales today was named "Fighter of the Month" by Ring magazine for his technical knockout victory over Germany's Hans Kalbfell.

Richardson stopped the German in the thirteenth round of their battle for the European heavyweight crown. The triumph also gained Richardson a No. 10 berth in the list of heavyweight contenders. He replaced another Welshman, Joe Erskine.

Both Benny Paret of Cuba and Federico Thompson of Argentina were promoted in the welterweight ratings for their sparkling draw. Paret was upped from fourth to third and Thompson boosted from ninth to fourth.

Unbeaten Doug Jones' decision over Von Clay of Philadelphia earned the New Yorker a place in the light heavyweight ratings for the first time. He was given the No. 9 post. Clay, beaten for the second straight time, was dropped out of the first 10.

Top Fox Cities Cagers Ignored In All-State Selections

Pickett says. Each school has a varied intramural program, however.

McGuire, Appleton YMCA physical director, feels competitive athletics in the lower age group can be beneficial if properly supervised. From what he's observed, McGuire says the local Little League program has "awfully good instruction." A potential drawback cited by McGuire is the sometimes tendency to concentrate too much attention on the best players, at the expense of the majority of candidates. He concedes that the LL's "minor league" plan probably answers this objection. In the "Y" youth program, everyone gets a chance to play, he says. This also combats the over-emphasis on winning, McGuire points out. There has been no injury problem in "Y" small-fry athletics, says McGuire, who attributes much of that success to careful supervision.

Jim Reinke, Appleton High school's all-time hurdles ace, is serving as assistant track coach at Shawano High. The former University of Wisconsin griddler began teaching at Shawano in January.

In my opinion, the Associated Press' all-state selection committee committed quite an oversight. Despite having one of the best groups of basketball players in several years, the Fox Cities area—one of the state's hardcourt strongholds—was blanked on the first three teams for the first time since the current selection method was adopted (1956-7). It's true the area did gain some honorable mentions—and what a list it was. Here's what I'd like to see: a charity game pitting five Fox Cities HM's (Ron Abel, Jack Ankerson, LeRoy Weyenberg, Don Hearden and Dean Schreiner) against the AP's all-state team (John Harsh, Dave Grams, Chuck Wood, Lyle Papenfuss and Paul Meany). My money would be on the Fox Cities five. For good measure, I'd give the AP entry its second all-state team for reserves (Gary Mevis, Harold Lamar, Joel Ungrodt, Bucky Wickman and Bob Lawrence) while I'd take Pete Vanderhyden, Darrell Jansen, Bill Borchardt, Dave Ristau and Harland Hietpas.

Only One 1959 Regular Will Open for Phillies

Fort Myers, Fla.—The Philadelphia Phillies' opening day lineup announced by Manager Eddie Sawyer includes one 1959 regular.

In announcing his starters for next Tuesday's National league opener at Cincinnati, Sawyer said Tuesday he is pinning his hopes and probably risking his job on young players.

"When spring training started I promised the kids variety jobs if they played as well or better than the veterans from last year," the manager told a news conference.

"Well, the youngsters have played better," he said. "And they are getting the jobs." The only 1959 regular who will be in the lineup is first baseman Ed Bouchee, who led the Phillies in hitting last year with a .285 average.

benching of outfielders Wally Post and Harry Anderson. Anderson was a .301 hitter in 1958 but fell off to .240 last year. Post slumped to .254 but still managed to lead the club in runs batted in with 94.

Sawyer said Bobby Del Greco, whom he called the standout of the camp, will play regularly in center field while the right and left field positions will be platooned.

Del Greco, up from Buffalo of the International league, had failed in four previous major league trials.

The right field duties will be shared by Kenny Walters, 26, a right-handed hitter up from Fort Worth, and left-hander Tony Curry, the Eastern league's most valuable player last year.

Veteran Al Dark, picked up in a trade, will be at third. Joe Koppe, who finished last season at short, will remain there.

Rookie Pancho Herrera, the 25-year-old Buffalo sensation who led the International league in virtually all departments and was voted the league's most valuable player, will be at second, replacing the weak-hitting "Sparkey" Anderson.

Jim Coker, a 24-year-old rookie catcher who hit .287 with Buffalo last year, will do the catching.

6-Club Dairyland Loop To Begin Play May 8

The Dairyland baseball league voted Tuesday night to continue the same 6-club operation as last year at a meeting in Club 47, Black Creek.

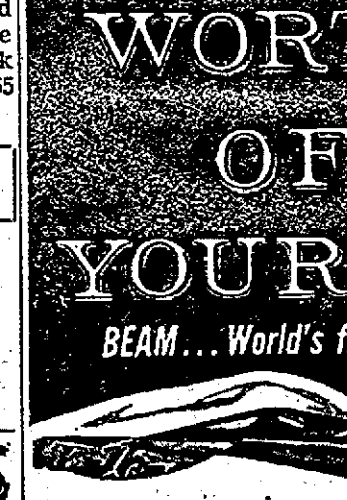

The opening games are Navarino at Bonduel, Landstad at Nichols and Hofa Park at Black Creek, all on May 8.

The circuit's first half closes June 26. The second half starts July 3. July 10 is an open date set aside for a game matching the league all-stars with the first half winners.

The season ends Aug. 21 and the playoff between the first and second half winners begins Aug. 28, according to President "Kelly" Weller. It will be a best-of-3 game play-off.

The circuit's next meeting, set for May 4, at Hofa Park will take up approval of local "base" umpires. John Mayzetski of Zachow, Fred Krueger of Seymour, John Vandewettering of Freedom and John Byrns of Shawano were approved as plate umpires Tuesday.

Bonduel is the defending league champion after having won both the first and second round championship. Hofa Park won a season-end consolation playoff for the next four teams.

Yachtsmen Will Sail To Candlestick Park For Giants' Game

San Francisco — San Francisco yachtsmen plan to make major league history next week by sailing to Candlestick park for the Giants' home baseball opener.

Some 30 of them in three yachts and a landing craft rendezvoused 600 yards from home plate Tuesday to make sure they could establish a beachhead.

The three yachts from the city's Great Golden Fleet anchored in about five feet of water off centerfield and put ashore in the landing craft on a spit of land jutting from the stadium parking area.

The Navy Thursday will attach a floating dock — a 60 by 18-foot pontoon — to the spit to enable the yachts to discharge their passengers directly before anchoring in the cove.

45 Teams Sign With ARD

Adult Softball Program To be Larger in 1960

Nine more teams than the 36 that competed in all Appleton Recreation department adult softball leagues last summer have registered for 1960 play.

Representatives of 45 teams either attended Tuesday evening's organizational meeting in the city hall council chambers or contacted the ARD after the meeting.

The Fraternal league is closed with 10 teams, two more than last year. Managers will meet April 26 to discuss eligibility rules and the entry fees have to be in by April 22.

Twenty-one clubs have signed for the three-division Industrial league, with only three openings remaining. April 22 is the entry deadline with a managers' meeting to classify all teams on April 25.

Six Classic Clubs

Six clubs are set in the Classic league, which also has an April 22 entry deadline and will play its games on Wednesday evenings. The league could be organized as an 8-team league if two more clubs are available.

The Church league currently has six members and could operate as a 10-team loop. All leagues will start play the week of May 16.

The large number of teams will make it necessary the ARD use two diamonds at Wilson and Roosevelt schools, one at Franklin and Erb park and one at either Lincoln or McKinley until the city's new lighted field at Telulah park is ready around mid-June.

U.S. Consumer Will Drink More Soda Pop

He Will Sip 203 Soft Drinks During 1960

New York — This year the U.S. consumer will drink 203 bottles of the fizzy beverages, 150 more than he sipped in 1929, reports Chemical Week.

Chemicals for the $1.5 billion soft drink industry fall mainly into two categories: raw materials such as flavors, food colorings and carbon dioxide, and maintenance chemicals for bottle washing and plant cleaning.

These materials add up to a hefty market for chemical makers — sales of flavoring alone are estimated at $75 million yearly.

Steadily Booming The steadily booming soft-drink business plans to sell about 1.7 billion gallons of its product this year — close to 1.5 billion cases.

The industry dates back to Joseph Priestley, English discoverer of oxygen, who is credited with developing artificially carbonated water. Commercial carbonated beverages first came into use in Philadelphia in the early 19th century. Today there are 4,519 bottlers of soda pop in the U.S.

Most popular flavor is the cola-type drink which makes up 65-to-70 per cent of all pop sales; lemon-lime, ginger ale and mixer beverages are next, orange flavors are third and then root beer.

At the bottom of the favorite list are the so-called red flavors — cherry, raspberry, grape and strawberry and such off-beat items as quinine water and celery tonic.

Chilton Man Sentenced To 38 Months in Prison For Parole Violation

Chilton — Phillip Hephner, 33, route 4, Chilton, has been sentenced by federal authorities in Milwaukee to serve 1,141 days in the federal penitentiary at Terre Haute, Ind., for parole violation. The prison term will complete his original 9-year sentence for an armed bank robbery conviction in 1952.

The violation occurred in February when he was charged by Calumet county authorities for contributing to the delinquency of a minor. He surrendered himself to authorities at Racine after being sought for almost two weeks.

GOLF Wedge Tip

The wedge has more loft than any club in your bag, but there are some golfers who try to add to this loft on a long pitch shot by scooping the ball and finishing with all or most of their weight on the right leg. That produces little or no backspin. To correct, address the ball with 60 per cent of your weight on the left leg and while executing the shot keep your head as steady as possible.

These Days

Conservative Republicans See Leadership in Barry Goldwater

BY GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY
New York — There is a little wind blowing in from the west and its name is Barry Goldwater. It will probably not become a tornado, but it is interesting just the same.

Nobody expects Sen. Barry Goldwater really to run for president or Sokolsky even vice president on the Republican ticket. But the amount of talk on the subject in Republican circles tells something. It is that a sufficiently large body of Republicans desires a Republican candidate who will not attempt to out-liberalize John Kennedy or Hubert Humphrey.

There were two objections to Gov. Nelson Rockefeller: one was that in party history, he lacked the seniority to run for president; the other was that he had built his career as a Roosevelt-Truman liberal and really belonged in the Democratic party. Richard Nixon has always acted like a Republican. After all, did he not serve on the house committee on un-American activities and did he not uncover the Alger Hiss pumpkin papers? And did he not knock out Helen Gahagan Douglas in a fierce fight against the liberals? And did he not say that the Democrats were soft on communism?

The Hand-Sitters
It was generally assumed within the Republican party that Richard Nixon would hold to conservative principles. The picture is not that clear and the Republican conservatives are not sure. When they are not sure, they sit on their hands. Wendell Willkie once and Thomas E. Dewey twice met defeat because they could not stimulate conservative Republicans to come out to vote. Many stayed at home. How many has variously been estimated, but any group of voters which refrains from sticking by its party can cripple a candidacy.

Barry Goldwater represents Republican conservatism. It can be said that Barry Goldwater represents American conservatism. His voice on this subject is loud and clear and he accepts no compromises. Goldwater is a man of considerable private means and is fearless. He has built his own career and is under no obligations.

Conservatives, who have been leaderless for two decades, more and more look to Goldwater for leadership. Many of the opportunistic Republicans fear Goldwater's rising influence because of the logic of his attack, which is that we do not have a two-party system unless each party represents a distinct philosophy of American life. If we all believe in the same ideas and processes, why bother about two parties and two candidates? Why not let the election go by default?

Favorite Son Candidate
He tries to state a Republican philosophy based in the field of economics, upon traditional American private enterprise; in the sociological field, on the freedom of the individual; in the constitutional field, upon the concept of a federal union of sovereign states instead of a centralized welfare state dominated by an overpowering professional bureaucracy. Thus, Barry Goldwater, not campaigning for the office of president or vice-president or anything else, suddenly finds himself with a national following and in some areas he is even being selected as a favorite son. It could develop into a grass roots opposition to Nixon that might do him considerable harm. I do not say that it will, because it is much too soon to measure the strength of the conservative disappointment at Nixon's not standing up to make himself an early target for Democratic attack and mud-slinging. That could happen. On the other hand, Republican conservatives and many other elements in the American population are tired of opportunism.

They have seen De Gaulle and Adenauer stand strong and courageously for what they believe to be true and they wonder why they have to sit around and listen to the same tweet-tweet of gentle me-tooism. Where, they ask, is the loyal opposition? Despite all that has happened since 1945, they hear about "one world" and they wonder whose world. They see the dollar declining not only in domestic purchasing power but in foreign exchange and wonder how long we shall continue to take no solid position.

Now that President Eisenhower has given Nixon a free hand, the vice president might step forward and gather together his forces. Meanwhile, Barry Goldwater's name continues to crop up.
